Stalin Planning More A-Bomb Tests

Speaks Out In Interview With Pravda

Advises U. S. Leaders Not To Get Excited, No Attack Planned

MOSCOW, Oct 6 — (AP) — Generalissimo Joseph Stalin disclosed today Russia recently exploded an atomic bomb in a test and plans more test blasts of "atomic bombs of various calibers."

This was the first time the Soviet Union had announced it had exploded an atomic bomb

Stalin made his revelation in a front page interview with an unnamed correspondent of Pravda, official newspaper of the Russian Communist party.

The announcement was telephoned to U S ambassador Alan Kirk just before he left for the airport to board a plane for the United States. The news did not delay his departure.

Stalin advised American leaders not to "get excited and raise the alarm about the atomic bomb explosion in the U.S.S.R'

The Russian leader said Soviet bombs are no threat to American security because the "Soviet Union is not contemplating an attack on the United States or any other country whatsoever at any time."

Instead, he said, Russian bomb developments are for her own defense against aggression

"The testing of atomic bombs of various calibers will be carried out in future also according to the plan for our country's defense against the Anglo-American aggressive front," Stalin said.

(In Vista, Calif, Gordon Dean, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said "Stalin was only confirming what we (the United States) already knew"

("But we will watch with great interest any future tests Russia might make," he said.

(The test bomb was not necessarily dropped from an airplane, but might have been exploded on the ground, he added

(President Truman made a statement Wednesday saying the Russians had achieved their second atomic bomb explosion. He had announced two years ago that the United States had knowledge of a previous Russian atomic explosion, but this earlier statement was never confirmed by a Soviet announcement).

International Control

Stalin repeated that Russia wants international control of atomic weapons but charged that an American plan put before the United Nations was a "mockery of control."

"What do you think about international control in respect of atomic weapons?" his anonymous Pravda interviewer asked.

"The Soviet Union stands for the prohibition of atomic weapons and for stopping production

Vet Reserves To Be Home By Christmas

Enlisted Men Get Break In New Plan; Pay Raise Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct 6—(AP) —The Army has put a "home by Christmas" tag on enlisted World War Two veterans called involuntarily from the reserve.

Other developments on the military front today:

1. The Defense Department wants Congress to give everyone in all branches of the armed forces —from private on up—a ten percent pay raise, with an $800 top.

2. Selective Service says draft boards across the nation will begin next week reclassifying childless married men of draft age.

Chairman Mahon (D-Tex), of the House Appropriations Subcommittee read the House a letter yesterday from assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg announcing the new Army release plan for veteran reservists below the rank of commissioned officer.

The Army had previously planned to get all enlisted veterans who were called to active duty against their will out of uniform by New Year's day.

Effective Dec. 20

But, Mrs. Rosenberg's letter said, careful reworking of Army plans had made it possible to cut the release date to Dec. 20.

Commissioned officer veterans called involuntarily from the reserve, however, the letter said, will generally have to serve out the full 17 months allowed by law. To let go of non-commissioned and commissioned officers

Reds Ambush British Chief In Malaya

SINGAPORE, Oct. 6—(AP)—Bushwhacking Communist guerrillas killed Sir Henry Gurney from ambush beside a lonely mountain road today on the third anniversary of the day he came here to harry them out of their steamy jungle hideouts.

Sir Henry, 53, was British high commissioner for the Federation of Malaya

Lady Gurney, accompanying him in a separate car, escaped unharmed

Gurney, a lean and determined six footer, made a practice of moving boldly along desolate roads and jungle paths to see for himself how the war went. He traveled among the people of the terrorized jungle peninsula more than any other official.

On this occasion his main escort vehicles temporarily broke down and Gurney decided to probe on ahead.

Mansfield Youth Killed in Effort To Save Motorist

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 6—(INS) —A 19 year-old father was electrocuted yesterday when he attempted to extricate a man from his car which had crashed into a utility pole on State Route 39, about three miles northwest of Mansfield.

Charles R. Parker of Mansfield touched a live wire when he tried to pull Millard Wagaman, 62, also of Mansfield from his car. Parker was on his way to work at the Shelby air depot.

State police said Wagaman, who is hospitalized with head and leg lacerations and a possible brain concussion, lost control of his car while negotiating a turn.

Shortly before that, police said, Wagaman had struck a car driven by James Mangan, 22, also of Mansfield, about two miles from the scene of the second crash and failed to stop, Mangan was not injured.

Senators End Probes Into RFC Influence

Await Report On Testimony Involving Boyle, Gabrielson

WASHINGTON, Oct 6—(AP)— Twin Senate investigations of contracts between the Democratic and Republican national chairman and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation came to an uncertain end today.

An official report is still to come—and there is even a possibility the probe may be resumed.

Under scrutiny of the Senate investigations subcommittee was the propriety of relations between the huge government lending agency and Democratic chairman William M. Boyle Jr, on the one hand and Republican chairman Guy G. Gabrielson on the other

A Senate Banking Subcommittee recently accused the RFC of improper suoservience to an influence ring reaching into the White House desks of some presidential aides. A Federal Grand Jury is looking into the accusations.

The RFC's new boss, W. Stuart Symington, has made a series of staff shakeups. Legislation is pending in the Senate to abolish RFC entirely.

Senator Hoey (D-N C) who heads the current Senate inquiries, announced he has no further witnesses to call. He said he considers "We're through, except for a formal pronouncement on the two national chairmen's conduct in a report to the Senate"

Sen. Nixon Disagrees

Senator Nixon (R-Calif), a committee member, told a reporter he thinks the Boyle injuiry has "too many loose ends to call it closed —I think we'll have to resume."

In any event the investigations have provided political dynamite for both parties' campaigns.

The inquiries ended last night with Turney Gratz, Boyle's former chief lieutenant at the Democratic headquarters, the last scheduled witness.

Gratz testified he was on Boyle's personal payroll for four years while still a $10,000 a year employe of the RFC. He said he saw "nothing improper" in the arrangement.

Boyle, he said, paid him $11,000 95 in the years 1946 through 1949 for keeping his financial accounts in order and advising him on investments. Boyle became acting chairman and later chairman of the party in 1949.

Galion Fire Loss Placed At $100,000

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 6 — A $100,000 loss was set today in the fire which partially destroyed the Eagle Crusher Co. factory building in Galion. Fire Chief John Durtschi made the estimate.

The fire broke out at 9.15 a m. yesterday while workmen were heating a wax to be used for protecting overseas shipments. Flames from the burning wax shot 30 feet in the air and all but the office portion of the building was destroyed in 30 minutes. A machine shop and storage room was leveled.

The Galion fire department used all its equipment in fighting the blaze.

Seek Hit-Skip Driver In Death of Ohio Girl, 2

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Oct. 6 — (AP)—A hit-skip driver struck and killed two-year-old Mary Jane Payne on U. S Route 22 at the edge of Circleville last night.

City and county police and sheriff deputies joined forces in a search for the death car.

Mary Jane was playing on the curb while her father, Logan Payne of Circleville, was fixing his automobile across the road.

Witnesses said the car stopped about 100 feet later. A man and a woman got out of the car, looked the situation over, reentered the car and sped away.

OFF HEARTBREAK RIDGE. Down off Heartbreak Ridge in Korea come these G.I.'s riding atop the backs of their buddies who carry them through the rain to an aid station just behind the front lines The 2nd Division G.I.'s, wounded in an ambush as they came off the ridge for a two-day rest, had spent two weeks in the line during the height of the bloody battle on the east central front.

Enemy Hit by Land, Sea

Drive Reds From Heartbreak Ridge

U S 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct 6—(AP)— American and French infantrymen charging with fixed bayonets behind flamethrowers seized virtually all of bloody Heartbreak Ridge today.

The fighting flared up suddenly in the eastern Korea mountains as the Allied offensive in the west ground to a halt—with most objectives secured.

In the air U S jets took on the Reds at three to one odds The Americans lost one plane but probably destroyed one Red fighter and damaged two.

On the east coast the U N. Allies jabbed twice at the Reds Friday by sea and land. The battleship New Jersey led a small task force on a bombarding raid into Hungnam Harbor, 125 miles north of the 38th Parallel. And an infantry patrol penetrated Kosong, 40 miles north of the Parallel

There was no new move toward reopening truce talks.

40-Mile Front

The western offensive along a 40-mile front by 100,000 men from nine United Nations gained up to five miles in four days. It was the biggest Allied drive in three months.

One American patrol was surrounded for six hours on the west central front. But otherwise beaten Chinese appeared to have given up completely.

The Allies moved into the best positions they have held in the West in a year and sent patrols reaching out as much as three miles in front of their newly won hills.

The new line formed a parapet of defenses north of the winding Imjin River.

The long stalemated battle of Heartbreak Ridge erupted suddenly in a surprise night attack by American and French troops.

Infantrymen of the U. S. Second Division's 23rd Regiment, charging with fixed bayonets and shouting "banzai," stormed to the top of a 3,000-foot peak. They captured it for the third time in a month.

They killed 100 Red Koreans in the pre-dawn fight. Other Reds fled in disorder before the Americans' flame throwers and white phosphorous grenades.

French troops swept up another slope of the peak with little trouble Artillery was credited with killing 900 Reds.

Captured Two Peaks

Simultaneously the second division's two other regiments captured two peaks west of the ridge.

The 38th Infantry Regiment, attacking up the eastern side of Mundung Valley captured a high peak adjoining the ridge and dominating the valley.

The 9th regiment, on the western side of the valley fought slowly up another tall mountain against stubborn resistance.

During the three-pronged attack a U. N. tank force diverted heavy Red artillery emplacements. It made a bold sortie up Satae Valley east of Heartbreak Ridge. Red artillery was so busy firing at the tanks the Reds had nothing left but mortars to shoot at attacking infantrymen.

United Nations forces now hold all but the extreme northern tip of fourmile long Heartbreak Ridge. Patrols began moving down from the ridge some 20 miles north of the 38th Parallel and probed Mundung Valley. It is believed to have been a Red assembly area.

Three Escape At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 6—(INS) —Three Mansfield reformatory convicts are at large today after simply walking away from the prison orchard outside the walls where they were working.

Authorities said the men who fled yesterday were Ronald Anthony Webb, 20, admitted May 11 from Hamilton County and serving one to 15 years for burglary and larceny; Ralph Smith, 20, admitted three days later from Highland County and serving up to 25 years for unarmed robbery, and Thomas F. Johnson, 19, serving a one-to-20-year term since June 25 for stealing a car.

New Scandals In Revenue Bureau Hinted

WASHINGTON, Oct 6—(AP) —House investigators hinted today at new revelations of scandals within the Internal Revenue Bureau in the wake of mounting allegations of tax shake-downs and sideline profits by key tax collection officials But the probers would not say what was to come when they get back to work Tuesday.

As unfolded thus far by a House ways and means subcommittee, it was a story studded by grand jury indictments, dismissals and resignations featuring district tax collectors in such scattered spots as New York, Boston, St. Louis and San Francisco. However, Chairman King (D-Calif), indicated investigation has halted the alleged irregularities.

When the subcommittee recessed last night, King stated:

"I think that during this week's hearings we have seen enough to indicate that we are dealing with a scheme that has intended to embrace more than just a single collector's office, and that had begun to spread across the nation when it was frustrated."

Meanwhile, internal revenue commissioner John B. Dunlap announced the resignation of Carroll E. Mealy as deputy commissioner in charge of the alcohol tax unit, for reasons of ill health.

Mealey's letter of resignation, in the deputy's handwriting, was made effective at the close of business yesterday. It was dated the previous day, Oct 4, from Mealey's home at Albany, N. Y.

Mealey informed Dunlap he had suffered a recurrence of a heart condition, and that on doctor's orders he was forced to take at least a 30-day rest.

Dunlap accepted the resignation "with regrets."

Mayor Issues Proclamation

Employ The Handicapped Week To Be Observed

Mayor Harold F. Robinson today signed a proclamation setting aside the week of October 7-13 as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week. Similar proclamation were recently signed by President Truman and the governors of the respective states.

Mayor Robinson urged all Marionites to do everything within their power to assist physically limited individuals in their employment problems. He urged them to give these workers opportunities to use their talents and remaining abilities, and not to show prejudice against them because of physical limitations. At the same time, he lauded Marion employers who assisted physically handicapped workers in rehabilitating themselves.

Mayor Robinson's proclamation said "the abilities of every citizen of Marion are needed in arming for defense and maintaining our civilian economy. There is productive power in the talents and abilities of physically limited potential workers, who, being good citizens, are desirous of serving with their utmost efforts and abilities within their community."

He called upon the citizens of this community to observe N.E.P.H. week and requested the cooperation of the employers, urging them to analyze activities within their establishments to determine employment opportunities for physically limited workers.

"I also ask public officials, leaders in education, and religion, and every citizen, during this week and at all times to exercise every effort to arouse communitywide support for the success of this program," his proclamation said.

Escapee Nabbed East Of Marion

Man Sought Two Days Under Guard At City Hospital

An escaped Ohio Penitentiary convict, Seymour "Rocky" Southern, 26, was shot and captured early today by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer east of Marion.

He is in serious condition at Marion City Hospital where he is under guard by sheriff deputies.

He was wounded by a .38 caliber slub fired by the sheriff when he attempted to escape into a farm field at the intersection of Routes 98 and 95 around 6.30 this morning.

The bullet entered the center of his back and came out in the upper right breast.

Although wounded, Southern ran 400 feet before he fell

The Alabama native had been the object of a manhunt in Marion County for two days, after walking away from an Ohio Penitentiary work gang Wednesday, just a week before his parole was to become effective.

First Seen Thursday

Southern was first sighted in Marion County Thursday afternoon when walking along the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad north of Prospect. He escaped after being taken into custody by Clifford Frost, C. & O. detective. His escape was made by jumping in front of a passing freight train. By the time the train had passed, Southern had disappeared.

He was sighted last night around 6.30 north of Waldo on Route 23. He had entered Dave's Garage, one mile north of the village, where he had purchased a loaf of bread. The convict was still wearing an Ohio Penitentiary sweatshirt and employes of the garage and store called the sheriff.

The sheriff and Deputy Dick Ruth hurried to the scene and were told he had entered a field of standing corn, just east of the garage.

Residents of Waldo and three representatives of the Delaware County Sheriff's office joined the search of the field while the state highway patrol set up road blocks.

Sighted In Field

Southern was sighted in the field and Sheriff Retterer fired two shots into the air in an effort to flush him out but Southern made his escape in the darkness. The search was called off at about 9:30.

At 4 a. m. today, Sheriff Retterer was patroling in the area southwest of the city when he received a radio report from Mrs. Retterer. She told him a truck driver had sighted a suspicious man walking along Route 98 toward the north. The sheriff proceeded north and sighted Southern sitting beside a filling station at the intersection.

As the sheriff's cruiser stopped across the road, Southern leaped to his feet and began running toward the rear of the station. Retterer fired a warning shot into the air to stop him but the determined convict kept going.

With but one shell left in his revolver, the sheriff aimed at the fleeing man and hit him.

Southern kept going, however, and made it into a field on the Chester Gruber farm. Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Severns arrived at the scene and while the sheriff drove into the field, he patroled the highways.

Retterer found Southern sitting in the field nearly 400 feet from the spot where he had been shot.

Held Under Guard

Southern was loaded into the sheriff's car and rushed to City Hospital where he is being treated. The sheriff said this morning Southern was receiving plasma and blood transfusions at the hospital. He said he thought

Snap Up Papers Announcing Blast

Russians Proud of News Of A-Bomb Explosion

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Correspondent

MOSCOW, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Russian people learned for the first time today that their country had exploded an atom bomb and reacted with considerable pride.

They talked about the news in loud voices as they walked along the streets on this cold, but sunny, day and formed long lines at newsstands to snap up papers.

The announcement, in the form of an interview with Prime Minister Stalin, appeared exclusively in Pravda. Apparently the editors had counted on huge sales for this edition and had printed enough copies to meet the demand.

Loud Speakers Blare News

The Moscow radio began broadcasting it, however, just as the workers began to go to their jobs. A loud speaker seemed to be blaring in every house and each was clearly audible in the streets.

Western observers were much interested in Stalin's statement that only one type of bomb had been tested and that tests with "various calibers" will be made in the future.

They regarded this as a clear indication that the U.S.S.R has more than one type of atomic weapon and that she is experimenting with those she has in production and in planned production.

Release of the news found most of the diplomatic colony at the airport to say goodby to U. S. Ambassador Alan Kirk who left today for home.

"Have you heard Stalin's statement?" was the inevitable question each asked.

Many of these diplomats speculated that the announcement might

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

All the Way My Saviour Leads Me

A prayer is answered . . . and Fanny Crosby writes another hymn

Among many characteristics of the blind poetess Fanny Crosby, three stand out. She always carried a little American flag. She either held it in her hand or kept it in her bag and it was buried with her when she died in 1915 at the age of 95. Though blinded in infancy, the petite "Aunt Fanny" (she was Mrs. Alexander Van Alstyne in private life) greeted friends and strangers alike with a cheerful "God bless your dear soul." And she never attempted to write a hymn without first kneeling in prayer. So Fanny Crosby spent considerable time on her knees. She wrote no less than 8,000 songs. So many that critics have said the chief fault with her work lies in that she was too prolific. But none can deny that many "pearls are found among the oyster shells."

Under contract for three hymns a week, Miss Crosby was often under pressure to meet deadlines. It was under such circumstances in 1869 that she tried to write words for a tune composer W. H. Doane had sent her. But she couldn't write. Then she remembered she had forgotten her prayer. Rising from her knees, she dictated as fast as her assistant could write, words for the famous hymn, "Jesus, Keep Me Near the Cross."

But one day in 1874 Fanny Crosby prayed for more material things. She had run short of money and needed $5 . . . even change. There was no time to draw on her publishers, so she simply prayed for the money. Her prayer ended, she was walking to and fro in her room trying to "get into mood" for another hymn when an admirer called. Greeting the stranger with "God bless your dear soul," the two chatted briefly.

In the parting handshake the admirer left something in the hymn-writer's hand. It was $5 . . . even change. Rising from a prayer of thanks, the blind poetess wrote . . .

All the way my Saviour leads me;
What have I to ask beside?
Can I doubt His tender mercy,
Who through life has been my Guide?
Heavenly peace, divinest comfort,
Here by faith in Him to dwell!
For I know, whate'er befall me,
Jesus doeth all things well.

All the way my Saviour leads me,
Cheers each winding path I tread,
Gives me grace for every trial,
Feeds me with the living bread.
Though my weary steps may falter
And my soul athirst may be,
Gushing from the Rock before me,
Lo! a Spring of Joy I see.

All the way my Saviour leads me;
Oh, the fullness of His love!
Perfect rest to me is promised
In my Father's house above.
When my spirit, clothed immortal,
Wings its flight to realms of day,
This my song thro' endless ages;
Jesus led me all the way.

The Way To God

A Sermonette

By REV. EARL L. HOLLIDAY

Pastor of Maranatha Bible Church

"No man cometh unto the Father, but by me."—John 14:6.

THE WORD way is found many times in the Scriptures, but in most every instance it either has reference to the way of the god of this world (II Cor. 4:4), or the way of the true God (John 14:1-11), and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

There is a difference in relationship to the human family in the name God and in the name Father. As the offspring of the creative hand of God and of His judgments and daily provisions in the laws of nature, the physical universe, and the laws of the human body, the whole human family have relationship, that is, to God. But there has been an interruption of that relationship in the fall of man. In the fall of man, the whole human family was changed in relationship, and became spiritually children of the Devil (John 8:44).

GOD DID NOT leave man without hope in this state, but sent His only begotten Son to rescue and to save him from that demonic and degenerate relationship. We are told that to those who receive Him (Jesus), God gives them "power to become the children of God, even to them that believe on His name," (John 1:12). Paul in Galatians says, "ye are all children of God by faith in Jesus Christ," (Gal. 3:26). Only those right with God through His Son have true relationship, and the common teaching of this day that God is the Father of all of is unscriptural and unfounded in God's word and plan for lost mankind.

The multitudes misunderstand this truth, for Jesus said, "strait is the gate and narrow the way that leadeth to life and few there be that find it." And, "wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat." When humanity is brought together without the Lord Jesus Christ, there can only be confusion and human power. When a group of people is brought together after having been redeemed by the Blood of Christ, regenerated by the Holy Spirit, and following the Lord Jesus Christ in service, the power of God must attend that group, for they are His "peculiar people, zealous of God works. "They are united to Christ and that union cannot be divided. Many unities keep that group, (Eph. 4:3-6).

HENCE TO COME to God, there is but one way. Jesus is the way. The pathway to God starts with Him and ends with Him. No other way will do, not even the way that seems right unto man. No substitute for Christ can avail!

The truth about God is also found in Christ for He is truth. No human, institution, religion or philosophy can take His place. He transcends all in being and giving to faithful followers the truth of God.

The Lord Jesus Christ is life. There is no life apart from Him But He is more than life, He is eternal life (John 3:36). Many persons go after fortune, fame, frivolity as though they were eternal. None begins to live until in Christ, for He is life and life more abundant.

He has gone to prepare a place for those who follow Him as the way, the truth, the life. There are just two things about going some place: start (believe in Me); keep going, (no man cometh to the Father, but by Me). Have you seen Him? "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father," John 14:9.

Lecture-Recital Club Program Slated Monday

Final rehearsals have been held and arrangements concluded for the Lecture-Recital Club patroness program at Hotel Harding Monday night featuring Mrs. George Griffiths and George Lane in light opera, "The Telephone," by Menotti, Melinda Plank, child dancer, and Miss Marilyn Hogen, clarinetist. Time of the program is 8 o'clock.

At the door Monday night, admissions will be available, and members of the club are each responsible for one patroness ticket. Members will be admitted by presentation of the club year books at the door.

Miss Plank will present a dance from the famous Tschaikowsky "Nutcracker Suite," and Miss Hogen will play three numbers accompanied by Mrs. John F. Lacey.

The "opera buffa," a one-act musical dramatization, will present two popular Marion musicians, Mrs. Griffiths and Mr. Lane, in a setting in which the instrument of communication, "The Telephone," is spotlighted. The entertaining and unique singing play is an entirely modern medium of musical expression and was first presented by the Ballet Society in New York City in 1947.

This is the first of two annual patroness programs arranged by the Lecture-Recital Club's program committee. The committee includes Mrs. George Lane, Mrs. Howard Hinamon, Mrs. C. E. Lockwood, Mrs. William Stanbro and Miss Mary Heininger.

Bellefontaine Pastor Here Monday

Rev. Dickey To Speak At School of Religion

Rev. Edwin H. Dickey of First Methodist Church at Bellefontaine, will speak at the forum of the Marion County School of Religion Monday night at First Evangelical United Brethren Church. His subject will be "Democracy Begins in the Home."

He is a brother of Marion's superintendent of public school, Lester L. Dickey.

A graduate of Ohio State University, he received his bachelor of divinity degree from Boston University, and has held pastorates in Corning, Hebron, Mechanicsburg, and Bond Hill at Cincinnati, before going to Bellefontaine.

He will bring to his Marion audience a discussion of his special interest in democracy in the home as the basic principal in the fight against communism, he told Rev. Evan R. Owens, dean of the School of Religion.

REV. EDWIN H. DICKEY

In writing in regard to this belief, he commented that he chose to speak on the subject at this time because "We hear much these days about the threat that communism is making against our free, democratic way of life. About the only answer we have proposed to meet this threat, is to prepare larger armed forces and cultivate friends in other parts of the world by making lavish gifts. Is that all we can do? How can we teach unswerving faith in the democratic process? Where do we actually learn to live as a free people? I believe it is done in the home where children are loved by two people who love each other, a place where democracy should be practiced."

Classes will meet following the forum hour. The school will continue each Monday night through Oct. 22.

Confident Living

How To Get Along Though Disappointed

By Norman Vincent Peale

WE CAN often learn a lot about living from people whom we would not usually expect to be sources of lessons in living. One of the most priceless gems of wisdom I have ever heard came from the lips of an old colored waiter who, when asked how he got along so happily and well, said: "Well, I tend to my own business. I'm thankful for what comes my way, but I don't expect too much. I put my trust in the Lord and try to follow His will. And I've learned how to get along with disappointment."

Dr. Peale

How many of us have learned "to get along with disappointment?" Those of us who haven't had better learn, for disappointment can be and often is the most crushing experience of human existence. And disappointment comes to all of us: the death of a loved one, the fading away of a cherished dream, the objectives we can't seem to attain, the loss of some prized possession.

A great neurological surgeon once told me that in his experience he had found most nervous breakdowns resulting either from disappointment or frustration to which the patient was unable to adjust. And this seems to be confirmed by most authorities on psychiatry and psychology.

HOW THEN DO YOU learn to get along with disappointment? How do you find the art of rebounding from it and adjusting to it? The 27th Psalm has an answer which is rich in philosophy and faith: "I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living."

In other words, the Psalmist says you can be crushed under disappointment, unless you can learn to believe in the goodness of God in this world in which we live. When you do this in terms of here and now, you can rebound from all your disappointments.

Lin Yutang, the Chinese philosopher, writes in his book, "The Importance of Living," that "disappointment is like a medal. There is printing on both sides. That is, there is an advantage and there is a disadvantage to what seems to be adversity."

I HAVE TALKED this question over with two friends who have had a great deal of trouble but who have retained a serene and confident faith in the goodness of God. I asked the first how she rebounded from disappointment.

"Whenever I have adisappointment," she said, "I know that soon God will give me a wonderful blessing. life is like a ledger. I have watched it across the years and have seen the good and the bad come out like credits and debits; when one side seems to overbalance the other, eventually the other side catches up. In my life I've found that my books are balanced."

I asked the same question of the other.

"Disappointment is like a rainy day," he said. "You have to have rainy days as well as sunny days if life on this earth isn't to dry up."

I WOULDN'T BE surprised if disappointment may not be a kind of direction signal. Here you are, headed down the road of life and you meet a disappointment. That may well be a sign saying: "I cannot let you go any further that way; I will send you another way." Then along comes another disappointment, sending you off on still another path. And havn't you found that some of these other ways are better ways for you? Therefore, when a disappointment comes to you, mightn't it be a good idea to stop and say to yourself, "What is there in this that is a message or a sign for me?"

Learn now to realize that you can't avoid disappointments, that they're an ever-present part of living. Learn how to rebound and adjust to them by cultivating a faith in the goodness of God. Learn to see them as signposts pointing you in a new and better direction. Then you'll be able "to get along with disappointment."

Galion Major Tells of Work Of 8th Army

Special to The Star

GALION — "The Eighth Army in Korea is the finest army the world has ever produced. . . . I am convinced of that; we have proven it, and will continue to do so," declared Major Fred Long Jr., in a visit to Galion this week.

A native of Galion, this was Major Long's first visit here since he landed in Seattle, Sept. 3, from Korea. His division spent 95 percent of its time in Korea on the line, and he has been overseas since Sept. 17, 1950. He will soon receive assignment to the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga., as an instructor. It was from Ft. Benning that he volunteered for service in Korea last summer, and he left the United States on Aug. 30, 1950.

He was operations officer of the First Battalion, 7th Infantry Regiment, Third Division, with the Eighth Army. The battalion received the Presidential distinguished unit citation for the record they made in rescuing the Belgians when they were cut off in the spring drive by the Chinese Communists, and for covering the withdrawal on the west coast when the big drive was made by the Chinese Communists.

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

Fastening Strips to Masonry Walls

There are many times when it becomes necessary to fasten wood to some kind of masonry, and it always presents a problem to the homeowner who is not too highly skilled in the building trades. The usual method brought into use by an amateur workman is to try to set his nails through the wood in such a manner as to strike the mortar or cement joint between bricks or blocks, on the theory that the mortar is easier to nail into than the brick or other wall material. This is true, as far as it goes, but the actual fact is that the nails will hardly hold well in anything like the average mortar joint, and many an amateur has found that his job was insecure and shaky instead of being firm and solid.

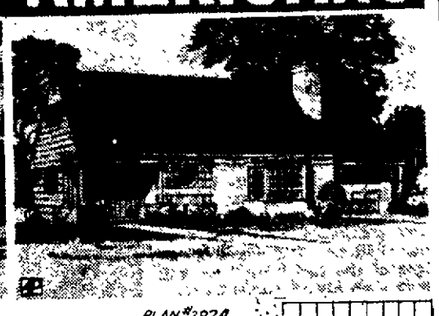
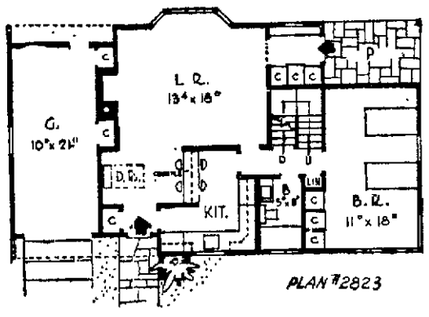
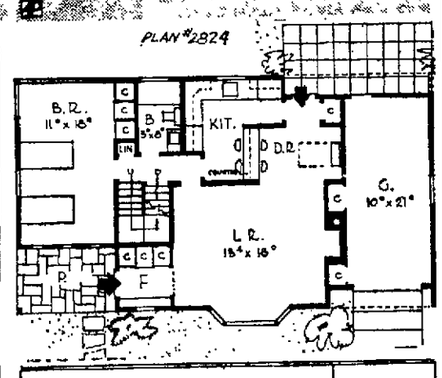
There is only one real, solid, worthwhile method of attaching wood or anything else to masonry and that is to drill a hole, insert a wood peg and drive the holding nails into the peg. We are talking now about the average household job, and not about construction work where patented anchors and other devices are used.

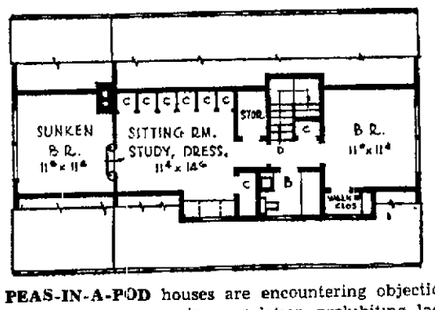
The actual procedure for attaching nailing strips, shelf-brackets or other articles to a masonry wall starts with selecting the best location for the strips or brackets. These spots are marked and then a half to three-quarter-inch hole is cut in the wall with a star drill and a heavy hammer. If the drill is rotated in the hand as you hammer on it, the hole deepens nicely. Next, wooden pegs are cut to a size that will just enable you to drive them into the hole without splintering or mashing them down. After this is done you are ready to nail up your strip or bracket. The spaces between holes should be accurate in measurement, so that by measuring from the first nail along the strip you cannot fail to hit the peg.

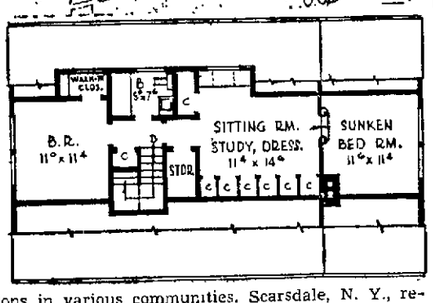
HOMES FOR AMERICANS











PEAS-IN-A-POD houses are encountering objections in various communities. Scarsdale, N. Y., recently adoptec a zoning regulation prohibiting look-alike houses. Architects contend there is a way out for builders without sacrificing the economy of simplicity in construction. Altering facades and roof lines, reversing and obversing the plan are among expedients. Individuals, wanting to face their homes according to the sun, benefit by those efforts. Above are two of several variations on one plan devised by Rudolph Matern, Architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. Each house covers 898 square feet, without garage and porch, which keeps them within current limitations on the use of critical metals.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

"Coldproofing" a Basement

Q: We can't afford anything extravagant or expensive but would like to make our basement more comfortable next winter. My husband cut a hole in the bonnet of the furnace, but that does not seem to provide much heat. Would a blower do the trick? I stuffed up many holes between the cement walls and the outside framing, but there still seem to be many drafts. Some of these openings are big enough for a hand to go through.

A: I think your first effort should be towards closing up the holes and openings in the outside wall. Large openings such as you describe could be closed by placing pieces of board or plywood and then sealing the smaller crevices and open joints with caulking compound. Another method of sealing the large openings is to pack them with oakum. After all possible sources of drafts have been eliminated more heat may be necessary, but if it is, a gas-fired room heater, properly vented, would be more effective than the installation of a blower for the purpose.

Hairline Cracks In Doors

Q: My problem is to refinish the doors on the kitchen cupboards, which are made of plywood, enameled white. The plywood, purchased during the war, was of inferior grade and since then developed millions of hairline cracks. What can you suggest?

A: Evidently the doors are of fir plywood. If so, remove the present finish down to the bare wood, then coat it with a special preparation made for flattening of fir grain. This preparation also helps prevent further checking. It is sold by paint dealers and also lumber dealers who sell plywood. After this, the present cracks can be filled with spackle or Swedish putty and when dry the filler should be made smooth by rubbing with "000" sandpaper. Wipe off the dust and finish in the usual manner.

Squeaky Wood Floors

Q: Could you advise me the cause of floors squeaking and the remedy for the elimination of such conditions? Is this due to faulty construction?

A: Squeaky floors are generally caused by the loosening of the nails holding the subfloor to the joists, also by the lack of sufficient nails when the finished floor was put down. A few isolated spots can be readily taken care of, but if all of the floor area squeaks the only remedy is to relay the floors. Squeaks on the first floor can be taken out by driving thin wedges between the floor joist and floorboards. The thin ends of wood shingles can be used for the purpose. Where there is a ceiling on the underside so that wedging cannot be done, drive two-inch long finishing nails, at opposite angles, through the face of the boards. Countersink the nailheads with a nailset; then fill the holes with wood putty.

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

THE WAY CONCRETE is blossoming out in all colors of the rainbow makes it seem inevitable that the day may come when a gal will refuse to walk on one side of the street—the color of the sidewalk won't be becoming to her!

You can have a pink porch, green driveway, cream color curbs and buff steps, if you want them, merely by mixing mineral pigments in the concrete, using colored aggregates, acid stains, or if you watch your step—by painting.

There are various good concrete paints on the market, but they have to be applied properly and the surface should be prepared for them. Also the concrete must be dry and remain dry.

Mrs. R.M.T., of Keokuk, Iowa, tells of a problem encountered with a concrete slab apparently laid directly on the ground. Intended as an open porch, it occupied space provided by an ell at the rear of the house. Wanting a screened porch, she had this terrace enlarged by the addition of an equal sized slab, roofed and enclosed the whole.

When her porch was painted, the paint peeled from the older slab and tracked through the house. The newer slab, on footings and a cinder bed, showed no paint trouble. Since the porch was at the base of a slope, subsurface drainage was obvious. The original slab, laid directly on the ground, absorbed so much moisture no paint could hold.

A complicated drainage system eventually solved Mrs. T's problem, but if she had colored concrete in the first place no paint would have been necessary.

ONLY MINERAL pigments are suitable for concrete. Organic dyes may fade and reduce the strength of the concrete. Natural oxides from mines cost less than manufactured pigments, but the latter produce more intense colors and so go farther.

Here is a guide for color prepared by the Portland Cement Association:

For white, use white portland cement, slightly higher in price than the regular.

For brown, use burnt umber or brown oxide of iron. Yellow oxide of iron may be added to modify the color.

For buff, use yellow ocher or yellow oxide of iron. Red oxide of iron may be added in limited quantities.

For gray, use small quantities of black iron oxide, manganese black or Germantown lampblack.

For green, use chromium oxide. Yellow oxide of iron will modify this color.

For pink, use small quantities of red oxide of iron.

For rose, use red oxide of iron.

For cream, use yellow oxide of iron in small quantities.

The usual rule is never to use more than nine pounds of pigment to a sack of concrete—that is, 10 percent. And the full coloring value can only be obtained by using white portland cement.

Pigments and cement must be thoroughly mixed.

ANOTHER METHOD of coloring concrete is to use colored aggregates. These include white sand, marble chips, granite screenings, crushed field-spar, mica spar, crushed slag, garnet sand and various colored rock materials.

Some of these produce a sort of jeweled effect when the surface film of concrete is washed off with a wire brush.

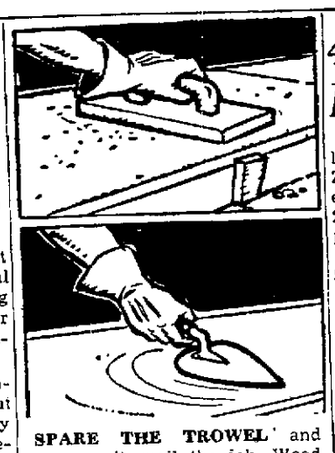
FINISHING and curing any concrete surface are important details. Never use a steel trowel for truing the surface. A wood float is used to remove any unevenness. A steel trowel is used only sparingly and only for the final operation. Excessive trowelling draws fine material to the surface, encourages dusting and reduces wearing quality.

For a gritty non-skid sidewalk or driveway, a coarse broom is used to score the surface.

Watertightness, durability and strength depend on the curing. Concrete kept moist for seven days has tested 50 percent stronger than that exposed to dry air. If it is kept damp for a month, its strength is doubled.

And temperature is important. Concrete cured at 70 degrees hardens more than twice as quickly as concrete cured near the freezing point.



SPARE THE TROWEL and you won't spoil the job. Wood float at top is used for smoothing concrete. Steel trowel is used sparingly for final finish.

25 Cents a Year Kept Clock Going

HAVERHILL, Mass—(UP)—A Haverhill clockmaker once was paid 25 cents a year for keeping a customer's clock running

The clockmaker was Paine Wingate who set up shop here in 1795. The customer was Caleb Greenleaf, father of the noted mathematician, Benjamin Greenleaf.

On Nov. 11, 1816, Caleb Greenleaf made this entry in his diary: "Paine Wingate set the clock going: I paid him 25 cents for the last year. I am to give him 25 cents yearly as long as he keeps the clock in order.

Machinists Back Family Service Group

The Marion County Family Service Society, newest agency of the Marion Community Chest, was unanimously endorsed by members of Lodge No. 1281, International Association of Machinists, A. F. of L., in a meeting Thursday night in the Central Labor Union hall at 169½ East Center street.

The purpose and work of the Family Service Society was presented by a panel of speakers composed of E. J. Kinter, chairman of the agency's planning committee, Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of the Marion County Juvenile Court and Dr. Frederick W. Rea.

The new agency will serve as a case work group in the solution of situations dealing with marital, disciplinary and other family problems, through referrals from courts, ministers, schools, attorneys, physicians and direct application.

Endorsed also was the sewer bond issue which will appear on the ballot in the November election.

Five new members were initiated.

Big Man for Today

IN THE annals of special events there is a fairly recent addition—Newspaperboy Day. This is it.

Besides the program this newspaper has planned for the youngsters who earn money for themselves by distributing its editions every day of the year except Christmas, one more thing goes with observance of the day.

That is appreciation for the kind of young Americans who have the gumption and loyalty to learn how to make their own way in the world, beginning with a task like carrying newspaper routes.

All of us have had newspaperboys who didn't come up to our specifications. But along with the occasional disappointments, all of us have had newspaperboys who compelled our admiration. They stuck to the job. They held up their end of the bargain they had made with their customers. And they learned by direct experience what the free enterprise system is all about.

Newspapers long have admired these young Americans who performed such a vital public service. That is why there is Newspaperboy Day each year—to share appreciation of newspaperboys with the readers they serve.

The Unpleasant Truth

BEHIND a primary election in Cleveland last Tuesday to choose candidates for the November race for mayor were the usual unvarnished truths that no one inspects too closely—such things as the reasons for the lightness of the vote and the working of the Democratic machine in Ohio's key-political city.

But this year some of the unvarnished truths were brought to light. A reporter for the Cleveland News, tired and disillusioned after working on a straw poll for his newspaper, wrote about them frankly. He pointed out that many voters, far from being eager to take part in the primary, wanted only to avoid it; that others knew little about it and cared less. Many voters did not know the names of the candidates. Many who were not in the Democratic machine which rolls up the majorities in Cleveland that are supposed to give Ohio's electoral vote to Democratic presidential candidates, said their votes didn't mean anything; it didn't matter what they did with them.

Some voters were interested only in hurting candidates because in the past the candidates had displeased them by sentencing them for traffic violations and so on. "The days grow long while taking a straw vote poll," wrote the reporter. "You see frightened people and those who do not vote. You wonder about the workings of democracy."

Instead of rhapsodizing so much about it, perhaps more Americans had better wonder what has been happening to the greatest privilege men have won for themselves in the last two centuries.

Equality of Sacrifice

IT COMES as a bit of a blow to learn about members of the U. S. House of Representatives voting themselves $2,500 apiece for electric typewriters and other up-to-date office gadgets.

If only 400 house members spend this money—there is nothing compulsory about it—that would mean a cool million. And while a cool million is chicken feed in Washington, it is still noticeable out where people produce the wealth that buys electric typewriters for congressmen.

It is especially noticeable when some of the congressmen who will spend it keep talking about the necessity of keeping taxpayers from having too much cash in their pockets, lest they contribute to inflation. Inflation, itself, has taken care of that in most cases, without further tax boosts.

As long as there is equality of sacrifice, most Americans will grin and bear the pain that goes with giving up some of the conveniences they would like to have. That is the rub in $2,500 apiece for electric typewriters and other office gadgets. What is the essential difference between these gadgets and the gadgets which make life easier for everybody else?

Something Will Have Been Added

IF THE only consequence of the long summer lull in Korea has been to let the Red armies regroup and rest while the world waited on the outcome of a cease-fire negotiation undertaken in bad faith, resumption of full-scale fighting will mark a new phase of the war.

There no longer will be any reason to hope that the governments backing the Red armies can be held to limited objectives if the governments opposing them are confined to limited operations. Everything that Gen. MacArthur had proposed doing, plus everything else that can be done, will be called for by the exigencies of the situation.

The United States and the United Nations will have turned the other cheek. They will have exhausted every possibility of a negotiated settlement.

Roosevelt and Truman

By Raymond Moley

President's Standards Rated Below Predecessor's

AS THE days pass, the color of Washington life takes on a darker and darker shade. In no period in the last 30 years, have so many revolting examples of shabby ethics been revealed. There were plenty of lapses from grace in the Roosevelt years. Some of them have been revealed, and more examples are to come. But Roosevelt, with all his shortcomings, had a streak of idealism which revealed itself from time to time in very obvious ways.

It was Roosevelt who, in 1934, declared that no high political figure should maintain a private practice which would benefit by the political association. Some of the gentlemen affected by this declaration quit the committee; others decided to practice their trade elsewhere. Good lawyers were hit by this policy, such as Arthur Mullen of Nebraska—lawyers who could make a living without political influence. But when the Roosevelt blow fell, there were several who were not so gifted and, like Othello, they found their "occupation gone."

MOLEY

I was in a position in the early years of Roosevelt's Administration to see this at first hand.

WHEN DIPLOMATIC posts were to be filled, there were many who felt that they had bought ambassadorships and other jobs by fat contributions to Roosevelt's campaign. Resolutely he declared a policy of promoting a fairly large number of competent career men, despite political demands of several whose sole claim was monetary. There were bitter complaints and wringing of hands, but the Roosevelt determination was fairly consistent.

"I say "fairly" because not all contributors were denied. Some big posts went to contributors and the people chosen were not illustrious choices.

That rich hunting ground for political profits, the Treasury, was guarded by Henry Morgenthau, whose shortcomings did not include any tolerance for improper private profit-seeking. With a suspicious mind that developed into an obsession, Morgenthau guarded access to Treasury sources of private profit. Roosevelt found it convenient to shield himself behind this surveillance.

JESSE JONES was not blindly suspicious, but he was unbelievably shrewd in protecting the RFC. He had plenty of nudges from the White House and from people around that place of power. But when a loan was suggested that was abhorrent to his business sense, he found a way, sometimes a circuitous way, to frustrate it. Sometimes he found a way to provide the loan through private sources — occasionally at personal cost to himself. Generally he simply ignored the request, and Roosevelt did not press it further. In any event, Jones protected the public purse.

As time went on and Roosevelt felt the security of a second and third term, the earlier streak of idealism narrowed. But in general there were limits to political profit at public expense. And Roosevelt was generally too canny to give expressions of Presidential confidence for political associates who strayed into devious ways.

There were no splittings of hairs about a political figure who accepted cases before he received a party salary and after. And the RFC was not nearly so receptive to bad loans. Probably things would have worsened in a fourth Roosevelt term, but they always do when a party has been in power too long.

BUT THE BLAME for present conditions cannot be placed entirely on the fact of long possession of power. It must most heavily fall upon a President who takes a different view of political loyalty and who has failed to protect himself with strong men in several cabinet posts, in high places in the so-called independent agencies, and in the White House entourage. Responsibility belongs at the top.

The Red Feather

By George E. Sokolsky

I WAS politely put off the air last Sunday night to make room for the Red Feather campaign which is, in each locality, our most intensified charity drive. As silence is golden and charity the greatest of all virtues, I contributed silence to charity.

But when the time came that usually finds me prophesying, like my ancestors, against the evils of our times, I turned on the radio to listen to exhortation, to pleas, to orations and sermons on the virtues of charity. Instead there were bits by Bing Crosby, Dinah Shore, Schnozzola Durante and others — meritorious bits of their own but unassociated with the subject. Ray Milland did list some of the charities and it all ended with a short and hurried speech by President Truman to the effect that there were some things that the government could not do, which was, for him, an enormous admission.

SOKOLSKY

Sometimes we ask ourselves why it is that Europeans and Asiatics do not understand us. We have spent billions of dollars trying to tell them about ourselves to little avail. But do we understand ourselves?

Certainly, whoever arranged that Red Feather program does not understand the American people; he does not grasp their seriousness, their generosity, their essential charity and good-will. Here is a people that has established a vast number of hospitals, orphanages, homes for the aged, schools, colleges, universities, every type of social service out of the charity of private individuals, without government assistance or intervention.

AND THIS RADIO program was the exact place to tell that story, cogently and dramatically. But what does whoever arranged it do? He puts together a typical benefit with big stars doing what they know best how to do, but nary a word about what it means to a people to give charity — to run their own show as God gives them to see and do the right.

For charity is of the same emotional and spiritual fabric as liberty. Taxes are something altogether different. Taxes are enforced. They are taken from us, we are neither the judges of the amount nor of the time of giving. We are taxed for things that we believe in and things that we oppose. We are taxed for good management as we are taxed for waste and profligacy.

Charity is voluntary and is of the heart. Look about your own city and see the wonderful institutions that are the blossoms of a deep emotion, a memorial to a beloved father, a mark of love for a son shot down in war, an act of devotion by a handful of women, a cause nurtured with care and patience by a few devoted persons, many of whom could hardly afford the money or time they gave to it.

THIS IS the spiritual expression of many in good works, in inspired service to his fellows. Few of America's magnificent charities or even educational institutions started as big projects. Most of them are by-products of church work. Such universities as Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, to mention only examples, were founded really as church schools. Most of our great hospitals and medical centers—certainly the older ones — were founded as adjuncts to churches.

Yet, not one word was said of all this on this Red Feather program which used the time of the networks simultaneously. In fact, nothing of any significance was said. The Voice of America expressed itself in doggerel and twaddle. We are silent about our virtues not because of modesty but because, taking everything for granted, we no longer recognize our virtues.

FOR WE HAVE VIRTUES and we have a civilization and we need to speak of it constantly and repetitively that our young people may never forget it. In the American civilization, charity is not only a moral obligation, but it is a witnessing that free men can

500,000 Important Boys

THEY HAVE A VITAL ROLE IN AMERICA'S ECONOMIC LIFE

TODAY is National Newspaperboy day! It's the day when the entire newspaper industry goes all out to pay tribute to those half-million boys who contribute so much to record breaking circulations of U. S. and Canadian newspapers.

About 80 percent of the over 52 million newspapers read every day by the American public are delivered or sold by newspaperboys. It has been estimated that there are over 500,000 newspaperboys. It takes about 66,000 reporters, editors, printers, etc., to produce the nation's newspapers but it takes a half-million newspaperboys to deliver the finished product to the reader. Besides acquiring business experience, the newspaperboy is performing a necessary public service.

In addition to performing a public service, the newspaperboy benefits personally from his route work. He is receiving training in the American way of doing business. Fundamentally, his newspaper business is like other businesses. He is learning lessons which will serve him all his life, while practicing the principles of free enterprise in his youth.

HE IS LEARNING the importance of regularity and dependability. He is learning how to meet the public and how to sell, how to extend credit to his customers and how to have credit extended to him. Thus he learns the responsibilities of being in business.

He is learning the proper management of money, how to keep books, and what is required of him in the way of personal effort, in order to make a profit on his enterprise. He is experiencing the thrill of economic independence, combined with the satisfaction of being able in many cases to provide for his own clothing, books, movies, entertainment, a college education, etc.

Newspaperboys are an important part of America's economic life. The 500,000 newspaperboys throughout the country earn some 150 million dollars per year which they save or spend in their own communities.

A MINIMUM of a half million $25 U. S. Defense Bonds were sold as a result of the nation's newspaperboys' efforts during the May Bond drive, it has been estimated.

ONE 14-YEAR-OLD newspaperboy sums up his experience so neatly that, even though he does not represent The Star his statement is being quoted.

"If you like to build yourself up, make money and contact people, gain experience which later may prove a valuable asset and, in general, have a good time, get a paper route. You are out in all kinds of weather, it is true, but you learn to hold responsibility both to yourself and to others. You will get to meet human nature face to face in its most varied forms. You learn how to approach people and ask for money in a polite and almost sorrowful sort of way. You learn manners in regard to dealing with all kinds of people. So, if you want experience in any kind of work, get a paper route."

Star newspaperboys have found that they, too, are gaining the advantages of experience in the business world.

DEAR NEPHEW: A social function highly regarded in this part of the country is the wedding anniversary celebration. Your capricious aunt and I have gone to two of them inside of the last week—one to celebrate 50 years of marriage, the other a mere 25.

We wanted to get a line on how to behave at the former, which is something we still can look forward to.

It always has struck me as nonsensical that no fuss is made about connubial endurance after the 25th anniversary has been passed, until you reach 50. After that no one gives a thought to the struggle unless it lasts for 75 years, which is almost unheard of.

I think there should be a celebration at five-year intervals after the 25th anniversary, because the odds then are lengthening by leaps and bounds, especially after you pass the 35th year.

And the reason I think there should be more celebrations — I am not talking about quiet little commemorations but real whingdings—is because there should be more public recognition of the fact most people actually do stay married. Young people, especially, get the wrong idea about marriage, I am afraid, by reading too much about marriages that bust up.

If I wanted to sell automobiles I wouldn't keep telling the customers about the lemons that slipped past the inspectors. I would refer all my prospects to the owners of models which had done everything claimed for them, plus a little for good measure. Not that marriage itself needs any selling—don't get me wrong—but the idea that marriages can be made to last could use more salesmanship than it has been getting.

Funny thing about the golden anniversary celebration was the fact the oldy-weds were being sharp-tongued because a bachelor of the same vintage had lingered over-long whilst bestowing a buss on the lady of the house and the old man took a dim view of such antics. He still had fight in him.

At the other celebration — the silver one—the notable thing was the fact the survivors did not look appreciably older than their children, who were helping to do the celebrating. That, itself, is quite an accomplishment — I mean to make the 25-year mark without showing signs of wear and tear.

Anyway, I'm feeling pretty optimistic about marriage right now. Sort of offsets what I keep reading in the paper about people who drift in and out of marriage as though they had got lost in a hotel and were trying all the doors, but not being in any hurry to find the right one.

I will have to close now because we are canning peaches and I am supposed to help, being a handy man around peaches. Convey my regards to the members of your brood and plan to come to see us real soon.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The World Series and The Home

In our house the world series by radio and television is pretty trying. The old man wants to tune in early and stay glued to the set. Mom can take a little of the epic contests now and then, but wants to know what's cooking with Dione Lucas just about the time the bases are full with one out. She is apt to come crashing into the living room with a demand for Kathi Norris at the crucial minute when Casey Stengel and an ump are having it out in a terrific close-up. Junior thinks the radio announcer knows more about baseball than the telecaster and is apt to demand, "Turn down the video, cantcha, so I can get that last play explained?" Jenny—she's fourteen—can see where Joe DiMaggio has his moments, but she can't understand why the Early Bird Matinee or the Garry Moore Show shouldn't be admitted to the old homestead no matter who's on second.

PHILLIPS

It can be pretty unsatisfactory to all hands when an attempt is made to coordinate a close play at third base, a cooking hint regarding broccoli, a jackpot and a musical potpourri. To whom does the living room belong during a world series, anyhow? Isn't pop entitled to full possession under the law of eminent domain or something? Isn't it the one week when he has the right to take over and toss Dione Lucas, Bert Parks or Vacation Wonderlands right into the alley, chicken fricassee, jackpot, Grand Canal and all? Has a wife, mother or sister any right to barge in during a hassel at the home plate and say, "Pardon me just a few minutes, Gideon. I wanna hear the Bride and Groom program"?

The matter has never been taken to the courts, but Elmer Twitchell is threatening to do so and carry it straight up to the Supreme Court of the United States. "During a world series the women have no rights whatever around a radio or video set, unless they are baseball fans," he declares. "It is one week when they should be made to whip up the meals without any assistance on how to prepare Hungarian goulash, even if it comes between innings. If I let the wife butt in and I have to listen for a minute to a lot of stuff involving the whites of four eggs, half a cup of sugar and the juice of one lemon it destroys the whole mood of a world series. When I switch back to the ball game it takes me some time before I can watch Johnny Mize without wondering whether he is going to sock it out, bunt, look for a base on balls, prepare a beef stew or frost a layer cake."

"Have you ever thought of putting in an extra television set?" we asked.

"I did that last year," he snapped, and the wife had it on so loud in the kitchen that I put a two-base hit on my scoreboard as a chicken-liver omelette. I even had the pitcher taken out and a New England boiled dinner sent in to replace him with the score tied. Looking over my notes I had Nancy Craig at shortstop for one team and Kate Smith doubling Garry Moore in one of the best plays of a game."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

AS THE G.I. casualties pile up in Korea, so does American trade with the enemy which inflicts these casualties.

Forty million American dollars today help support the Red Chinese army and the people behind it. For, despite the war, the U. S. government has permitted American merchants to buy $40,000,000 worth of Soviet Chinese goods so far this year, relatively useless for anything in this crisis except to pad the pockets of a handful of sharp operators.

Unless this trade is stopped, Mao Tse-tung's Peiping government will get another 8,000,000 U. S. dollars before the New Year, at a time when international merchant's won't sell for anything but dollars. They sneer at other currency.

Victor Riesel

The Washington labor sources which relay this information to me, and a careful check of Department of Commerce records, reveal that none of the Red Chinese material now permitted into this nation is so indispensable that a substitute couldn't be devised by competent union technicians in any industry.

Lest there be any doubt as to the origin of this Sovietized Chinese trade, here are the provinces which apparently pack the stuff—in the time taken out of lining the streets to cheer the Chinese Communist troops on to battle against our forces:

The heaviest American purchases are from Inner Mongolian provinces of Suiyan, Chahar, Ningsia and Jehol. Also from the Tibetan sectors called Sikand and Sinkiang and the outer Mongolia section of Chinghai, sometimes called Tsinghai. These also are the areas supplying the Red Chinese forces invading Korea this minute.

IN OTHER WORDS, we're buying six times as much from the enemy as we're purchasing from Nationalist China on Formosa, where there are hundreds of factories ready to produce for us.

Once our government permits U. S. merchants to pay these millions of dollars for such stuff as bristles, soy beans, furs and metals for which there are other sources, the American buck is immediately seized by the Chinese branch of the Sino-Soviet Joint Economic Warfare Dept. Its braintrusters, in a rambling house at 14 Chi-Tiao Hutung street, Shih Pailou East, in the Soviet Chinese capital of Peiping, distribute the valuable exchange to agents running special purchasing and smuggling headquarters in Hong Kong, Calcutta and Prague.

These offices then contact world traders—and word that there are U. S dollars brings the ghoulish gentry in fast.

Whether or not our Commerce Dept.'s Office of International Trade is aware of it, the American policy permitting trade with the enemy apparently parallels the newest Soviet line being brought into the U. S. from Canada and France through the Communist-controlled unions still active across the nation.

THERE IS NO insinuation here of any willful collaboration. But what difference does it make to the house on Chi-Tiao Hutung street? The dollars are coming in.

They're coming in just at the moment when a message from Russia, via the international policy transmitter, Jacques Duclos of France, directs the left wing unions to shout for trade with the Sovietized lands. Slowly this policy, and the techniques devised to have it "seep" up through the "militant" unions into the U. S creeps this way. First it was the Moscow radio which launched the slogan "World Peace Hinges on Trade with USSR." This came in one of those talks carrying a title the Russians' heavy minds love, one of those "I Fell in Love With a Magnitogorsk Collective Farm Girl" titles.

This broadcast by the economic sharpshooter Vassilyev was called, "The Soviet Government is Fighting to Establish Positive and Friendly Trade Relations Among Nations." Then came a closed full (Plenum) session of the French Communist Party Central Committee in Ivry-Sur-Seine. There the "Come trade with us, you need us" policy was outlined by Poppa Duclos. A few days ago, the thing was tried in Canada.

A veteran pro-Communist who once operated in the Auto Union called for a "cars-for-cotton" trade pact with the "Peoples Republic of China." We'd give them the transportation needed to get their military around faster, and they'd send us flax and coal, which we need like the Southern mine operators need another John Lewis.

But, the comrades say, that would put the 90,000 layoff jobless to work. Soon the slogan will go through the Windsor-Detroit tunnel into the U. S. auto city And then flare through the cities where there's unrest.

Some of those merchants buying that $40,000,000 worth of soy beans must find their trade policies making strange bed-companions.

Kiwanis Hears Talk on World Federalism

Former Vice President Of World Federalist Group Is Speaker

A talk on "World Federalism" was given by Upshur Evans of Cleveland, a former financial vice president of the United World Federalists, Inc., at the Marion Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding Mr. Evans now is associated with the Standard Oil Co, as assistant to the chairman of the board.

"Today's conflict," Mr. Evans said, "is communism against democracy. Communism is not socialism, but communism represents a maximum effort to extend military state capitalism." He added that private capitalism now is the citadel of democracy. Up to now, the speaker said, private capitalism in democracy has provided food and freedom for the people living under such systems.

Kiwanians were told by Mr. Evans that the world today is on the threshold of world government either in one form or another, and one form or the other must evolve.

He related the U.N. was formed to perpetuate world government but Russia chose to thwart the dominating influences by not cooperating and through a definite effort to wreck the balance of the world's hopes. Mr. Evans expressed the belief that although the U.N. did not have the power to prevent conflicts, it inherently has the structure through commissions to study situations and act.

The speaker said there is now a trend toward reorganization of the U.N. to give it actual power to prevent war.

Speaking of the democracies and their desire to indicate to the rest of the world our way of life, Mr. Evans said that we need the human touch in showing the world how to help us extend our system.

Guests of the club were Spencer Danes of Cincinnati, Byron Wooden of Albion, Mich., Ray DeBolt of Galion, and C. H. Bachelder of Marion.

Musical Notes

by Gene Shellhorn

You can be pretty sure that schools go into musical education thoroughly . . . and that all youngsters (with parent's help, of course) . . . will be allowed music if they want it. But what about after graduation? Some of the boys and girls go on to college. But many of them, who've been playing in school bands and orchestras, take jobs right after school. Instruments are then put away to gather dust. And it's simply because there's no group outlet for their skills.

What about a post-grad orchestra . . . a group to meet occasionally just for a jam-session. If interest gets aroused enough, it could grow into a real community enterprise. Skills could be more highly developed and some of these after-school musicians might later graduate into the symphony. It's an idea to think about.

It's a good idea to keep your piano in the best repair to assure long-time satisfaction from it. In fact . . . it's important to keep all instruments in good condition. And we can do just that. We have experts to tune your piano . . . or to repair your band instruments. Just call us . . . at SHELLHORNS—Musically yours at 184 S. Main. Phone 2-2713.

House Passes Defense Budget

WASHINGTON, Oct 6—(AP)—Two of the biggest bills of the 82nd Congress—a $56,937,808,030 defense budget and a $7,483,400,000 foreign-aid measure — are slated for a high priority when the Senate meets Monday. Administration leaders are confident they will be pushed through rapidly and with little trouble

The defense budget measure, biggest peacetime appropriation bill in the nation's history, cleared the House yesterday. It previously had passed both branches but differences over amounts forced a second trip through Congress.

Its total includes $19,888,032,030 for the Army, $15,877,891,000 for the Navy and Marine Corps, $20,642,785,000 for the Air Force and $529,100,000 for the office of Secretary of Defense.

The services have in addition an estimated $37,000,000,000 in carry-over funds from previous appropriations, making a total of $94,000,000,000 available for spending. Of this, an estimated $40,000,000,000 is expected to be actually spent during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Most of the balance will be set aside to pay for already-ordered tanks, planes and other weapons when they are delivered in later years

The foreign-aid bill provides no money, but merely approves a broad program of providing military and economic aid for nations all over the world, who are not under Soviet domination A separate bill putting up the cash will come before the House later this month.

NICE CROSSING. Chosen "Leg Queen" by West Germany's hosiery industry, Gonda Sutean, 19, displays her prize-winning "bein" (German for gams) as she leaves New York's La Guardia Airport for Washington There she will present a token from Germany to ECA officials lead to another great power effort to work out international atomic control.

Some of them said that a quick reading of Stalin's statement led them to believe the generalissimo would welcome another approach at international agreement.

Some others took the pessimistic view that there was little new in the statement and as the previous Soviet position has already been rejected by the United Nations majority, there was little hope of anything happening now.

A few said it would at least be worth while to find out exactly what Stalin meant when he talked of "strict international control" of atomic energy.

Stalin said Russia wants "strict international control" in order that a hoped-for prohibition of atomic weapons can be carried out.

Western diplomats said there might be something new in what Stalin has in mind for controls. Russia has refused previously to agree to the West's demands for international inspection.

11 Injured In Marion Area Mishaps

Two Headon Auto Collisions Reported By State Patrol

Eleven persons were injured in four automobile accidents this morning and one last night, the state highway patrol reported. Four of the accidents resulted in arrests.

Cars driven by Allen R. Irons, 22, of Mt. Gilead and Donald M Buchanan, 32, of Lorain collided headon at 7.48 a.m. today on Route 42, half a mile north of Cardington. The front ends of both cars were demolished.

The front teeth of Buchanan's wife, Janice, was loosened and their son, Barry, 5, was bruised on the mouth and lips. Mrs. John Haslett of Elyria, a passenger in the Buchanan car, was bruised on the wrist and left shoulder. They were taken to a Cardington physician by the Curl ambulance of Cardington.

Irons received bruises and cuts of the knee and a chest injury and was taken to a Mt. Gilead physician by a passing motorist. He was arrested on a charge of passing without the assured clear distance and was fined $10 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty before Mayor R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead.

2nd Headon Collision

Another headon collision occurred at 8:25 last night when cars driven by Taylor H. Owens, 45, of Canton and Bert Henry Leeks, 64, of Bedford, O., struck each other on Route 42 in Ashley, demolishing the front ends of both cars.

Owens was severely cut on the forehead and Leeks was cut above the right eye. Maude Ellen Leeks suffered body bruises and was cut on the head and right little finger. They were taken to the Jane M. Case Hospital in Delaware by the Doty ambulance of Delaware.

Leeks was cited to appear before Mayor Russell Nolting of Ashley on a charge of traveling to the left of center.

Soldier Injured

A car driven by Richard Petitt, 24, a soldier stationed in Bellefontaine, went off the road and struck a telephone pole at the junction of Routes 47 and 4, 1½ miles west of Prospect, this morning at 4 45.

Donald Albright, 22, of Perkins, Okla., also stationed at Bellefontaine, was a passenger in the car. He suffered lacerations of the face and left arm and was taken by Hastings ambulance to Marion City Hospital after preliminary treatment by a Richwood physician.

Petitt's right leg was bruised and his front teeth loosened, but he was not hospitalized.

A tractor and trailer driven by Max William North, 27, of Columbus and a car driven by John B. Denner, 61, of Lancaster collided this morning at 4:50 on Route 98 in Kirkpatrick. Denner was cut on the face and left arm and his wife, Maude, suffered a fractured wrist and injuries of the leg and shoulder. They were taken to Marion City Hospital by the Gunder ambulance.

Driver Arrested

North was arrested on a charge of driving to the left of center and was cited to appear today in Marion Municipal Court.

The front end of the car was demolished and the left rear end of the truck was damaged.

Cars driven by Clara H. Archable, 45, of near Edison and Harley Klinefelter, 62, of near Marion collided this morning at 7:15 a.m. at the junction of County Roads 169 and 158, near the Salem Church three miles southeast of Claridon. Moderate damage to the vehicles was reported.

Klinefelter was cited to appear Oct. 9 in Marion Municipal Court on a charge of improper passing.

Gun-Packing Deputy Prefers Slingshot

GRAND CANYON, Ariz.—(UP)—A slingshot swingin' deputy sheriff, Bill Back, is the Pied Piper of Coconino County. He knocks off rattlers with .45 calibre pellets and blasts the mice that scurry through the mule barns of this canyon town.

Lanky Bill's a handy man with a pistol and holds several records in official FBI shooting matches. That's his office equipment, however.

For fun, he'll take the slingshot every time. He can split a rattler's head or splat a rat at 50 paces.

Bill clung to his boyhood weapon when his father wouldn't let him tote a gun. As he grew up, he preferred his slingshot to any mechanical piece.

"You can hunt quiet," he explains. "If you should miss your game (which Bill doesn't) there isn't much noise to scare him off. A slingshot won't scare everything for miles around like a rifle will.

"Game has a lot of curiosity. The thud of a lead ball won't make 'em run far. Like as not they'll stick around trying to see what's going on."

Asks Stassen To Repeat His Charges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen was faced with a new, last minute challenge to his accuracy as he went back today before senators investigating the nation's Far East policy.

Stassen is a former governor of Minnesota, a 1948 presidential aspirant, and is now president of the University of Pennsylvania. He promised the Senate internal security subcommittee fresh evidence to back up the charge he made before it last Monday that the adminstration's Far East policy was, at one time helpful to the Communists.

The committee scheduled an unusual Saturday session to give Stassen a chance to reply to a denial by the state department of part of his previous testimony

Subpena Vandenberg Diary, Stassen Asks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Harold E Stassen asked Senate investigators today to subpena the diary of the late Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) to corroborate "the essential facts" of his earlier testimony about a 1949 White House conference on China aid.

Stassen testified he had been told by Arthur Vanderberg, Jr., the late senator's son, that "the essential facts I testified to could be corroborated" from the diary and other documents kept by the senior Vandenberg.

In testimony before the Senate internal security subcommittee last Monday, Stassen quoted Vandenberg as telling him, in November, 1950, that Secretary of State Acheson and ambassador-at-large Philip C Jessup had proposed at the White House meeting that further military aid to the Chinese Nationalist forces be cut off.

The best baits for carp are dough balls, peeled crawfish tails, orange colored fresh-water clam meats, fresh and cut in bait size, as well as fresh sweet corn.

GOVERNORS ELECT. Nebraska's Republican Gov. Val Peterson is new chairman of the Governor's conference, elected at Gatlinburg, Tenn., to succeed Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat.

Stalin

of the atomic weapon," Stalin replied.

"The Soviet Union stands for strict international control in order that a decision on prohibition of the atomic weapon and on cessation of production of atomic weapons and on the use of already manufactured atomic bombs exclusively for peaceful purposes should be carried out conscientiously and with all exactitude."

Stalin continued: "American leaders also speak of 'control' but their 'control' is derived not from stopping production of atomic weapons but from the continuation of such production and in such quantities as correspond to the quantity of raw materials at the disposal of this or that country.

"Consequently, American 'control' is based not on prohibition of the atomic weapon but on its legalization."

(The American plan was supported in the United Nations by a majority of members.

(It called for an international commission to keep close control of all production of both atomic weapons and atomic energy for peaceful purposes.

(The commission would have been empowered to make spot checks of atomic plants whenever it chose. These inspections would have included Russian plants and the Russians turned down the plan with bitter insistence it would violate her sovereignty.

(The Russians made a new effort to secure U.N. adoption of their own plan after Mr. Truman reported in October, 1949, that the Soviet Union had succeeded in achieving its first atomic explosion.

(The main idea of the Russian plan was a ban on all atomic weapons but it lacked ironclad arrangements for seeing that the ban was carried out.)

Text of Interviews

Moscow radio broadcast this account of Stalin's interview statements:

Question: What do you think about the hullaballoo roused recently in the foreign press in connection with the testing out of an atom bomb in the Soviet Union?

Answer. Indeed a test was recently made by us on a type of atom bomb. Tests on atom bombs of various calibers will be made in the future under the plan for the defense of our country from attacks from the British-American aggressive bloc.

Q. In connection with the tests on atom bombs, public figures in the United States raise a hullaballoo and shout about a threat to the security of the United States of America. Are there any grounds for such alarm?

A. There are no grounds for such alarm. Leaders of the United States of America cannot fail to know that the Soviet Union is not only against the use of the atomic weapon but is also for its prohibition, for the cessation of its production. As is known, the Soviet Union has several times demanded the prohibition of the atomic weapon, but it has each time met the refusal of the powers of the Atlantic bloc.

This means that in the event of a United States attack on our country, the ruling circles of the United States will use the atom bomb. Precisely this circumstance compelled the Soviet Union to make the atomic weapon in order to be fully armed to meet the aggressor.

Of course, the aggressors would like the Soviet Union to be unarmed in the event of their attack on it. But the Soviet Union does not agree with this and thinks that in full preparedness the aggressor should be met.

Alarm Pointless

Consequently, if the United States is not thinking of attacking the Soviet Union, the alarm of leaders of the United States should be considered as pointless and false, for the Soviet Union does not contemplate ever attacking the United States or any other country.

The leaders of the United States are displeased that not only the United States but also other countries and primarily the Soviet Union possess the secret of the atomic weapon.

They would like the United States to be a monopolist in the production of the atom bomb in order that the United States would have an unrestricted opportunity to scare and blackmail other countries.

I think the advocates of the atom bomb can undertake the prohibition of the atomic weapon only in the event of their seeing they are already no longer the monopolists

Q. What do you think regarding international control in respect of the atomic weapon?

A. The Soviet Union stands for prohibition of the atomic weapon and for the discontinuation of production of the atomic weapon. The Soviet Union stands for the establishment of international control so that a decision concerning the prohibition of the atomic weapon and concerning the use of atom bombs already produced exclusively for peaceful purposes will be fulfilled with all exactness and conscientiousness. The Soviet Union stands precisely for this international control.

The American leaders also talk about "control," but their "control" derives not from a discontinuation of the production of the atomic weapon but from a continuation of such production and in such quantities as coincide with the quantity of raw materials at the disposal of some countries or others.

Consequently, American "control" derives not from a prohibition of the atomic weapon but from its legalization and legitimization. Thereby the right or warmongers to annihilate tens and hundreds of thousands of civilian population by means of the atomic weapon is legalized.

It is not difficult to understand that this is not control but a mockery of control, the deception of the peace-loving aspiration of the peoples. It is understandable that such "control" cannot satisfy the peace-loving peoples who are demanding prohibition of the atomic weapon and the discontinuation of its production.

"Rex. H. Robinson has volunteered to lead the solicitation of industries other than the Manufacturers' Council" said Mr. Bray, "William Charle will head the professional group, and. David Isaly and Jackson Taft are cooperating in directing the downtown solicitation The goal of these three divisions is $31,284.48. Dates for the Red Feather Drive this year are Oct. 16 through Oct 25. During these ten days the campaign organization will be trying to exceed last yea 's goal by 24 percent.

Mainly responsible for this increase is a new Red Feather Agency in Marion, the Marion County Family Service Society, and a greatly enlarged U.S.O. fund to help take care of the nation's increased military activity.

"We are planning a bigger Businessmen's Red Feather Day," said Mr. Isaly, in accepting his appointment. "Last year's downtown solicitation had much favorable comment and seemed to save everyone a good deal of time."

Friday Sheep Sales Begin

New Program Starts At Marion Yards

The first of a series of weekly sheep sales was held at the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association's Marion yards yesterday.

A total of 518 sheep were sold by 30 consignors. The sale was over in 45 minutes.

Sales will be held every Friday at 3 p.m. through March.

The Friday sheep sales were established to eliminate a bottleneck in the regular Monday livestock auctions, the association announced. Facilities of the yard were being overtaxed because of the number of animals brought in to the Monday sales.

The newest setup will make it easier for the farmer to get his sheep in and unloaded and the sale will move more quickly, the association said. While sheep will still be handled on Mondays, farmers were urged to take advantage of the Friday sales.

Prices were as follows: choice lambs $31.10 per cwt.; good to choice, 30-31; medium to good, 29-30; good feeder lambs, 30-31; common to fair feeders, 21-27; culls and outs, 21 down; old sheep, 10-15 20; breeding ewes, by the head, 24-28.

Reserves

all at once, Mrs. Rosenberg wrote, would too seriously deplete Army leadership.

The letter also said:

The Air Force will release all its enlisted men ordered to duty from the volunteer reserve after 12 months service. But again, officers, "particularly pilots and other trained crew personnel," will for the most part have to stay 17 months.

The Navy is releasing its enlisted men in this category after about 15 months service.

The Marine Corps will release by June, 1952, its volunteer and inactive reserves — both enlisted and officer — who were assigned to duty before June 30, 1951. They will have served an average of about 14 months.

Pay Hike Retroactive

Another letter from the Pentagon, this one from Defense Secretary Robert Lovett, went yesterday to House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

It asked "urgently" for a flat ten percent pay raise for everyone in service, retroactive to last July 1. It would be limited to $800 a year for any individual.

Lovett estimated the expense at around $800,000,000 a year. He said that in view of heavy defense spending, he was reluctant to make the request, but rising living costs made it urgent.

Convict

Southern would live. Sheriff's deputies are guarding him.

The sheriff said he had never seen a man run as fast as Southern. Had the convict not been wounded, he probably would have escaped, the sheriff said.

Papers found on Southern's person identified him as the escapee, the sheriff said. The capture this morning was hindered by the early morning fog. At the time of his capture, Southern was wearing the prison sweatshirt and the traditional blue denim trousers issued at the Ohio penitentiary.

Sheriff Retterer said he submitted meekly after being located in the field. He asked almost immediately for a drink of water. Although he is able to talk, Southern would not identify himself to deputies.

Walked Away

Southern walked away from an Ohio Penitentiary honor gang Wednesday, just one week before he was to have been paroled. He was serving a 1 to 20-year sentence for auto theft having been sentenced from Franklin County Common Pleas Court. When he walked away, the honor gang was working on a detail at a Columbus warehouse on Spruce street, not far from the penitentiary, for the county welfare department.

Although he was not considered dangerous by local authorities, Warden Ralph Alvis of the Ohio Penitentiary said this morning Southern had served jail terms on charges of carrying firearms and assault and battery.

Although a native of Alabama, Southern has a wife living in Pittsburgh and prior to his last conviction had lived in Columbus.

The 26-year-old Negro was sentenced Aug. 30, 1948 His parole would have become effective Oct. 10.

Report Hog Prices Drop 15 Percent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Hog prices have declined nearly 15 percent since mid-summer, but little of the drop has been passed along to consumers on the price of pork, the agriculture department said today.

A further decline in hog prices was forecast between now and December, a period of seasonally increased marketing. But again there is no indication, the agency said, that there will be any retail price reductions.

Hogs are now bringing farmers an average of slightly less than $20 for 100 pounds. In mid-summer, they brought an average of as high as $22 60. Present prices are nearly $2 below quotations a year ago.

Holding Close

Beef cattle prices, on the other hand, are still holding close to price ceiling levels and are likely to continue to do so, with possible exceptions of a few times this fall when seasonal increases in marketings may cause some temporary declines.

The fact that hog prices have declined and pork prices have remained stationary is reflected in wider margins for slaughterers. Department reports show, for example, that the slaughter margin at Chicago last July averaged about $1 on 100 pounds of hog. That is, the slaughterer sold the pork and pork products from 100 pounds of hog at $1 more than he paid for it.

CORRECTION

The time of an accident involving cars driven by Ernest Fisher, 47, of 218 North Grand avenue and Fred C. Bacon, 69, of 434 West Columbia street was incorrectly reported in yesterday's Star. It occurred at 10:18 a.m. Thursday instead of 10:18 p.m.

Yanks, Giants Move To Polo Grounds With Series Even, 1-1

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(AP)—Back home in the friendly Polo Grounds where miracles do happen the underdog New York Giants count on Jim Hearn (17-9) to outpoint Yankee Vic Raschi (21-10) in today's third World Series game.

Not that miracles are needed by this daring carefree Giant club that stands all even in games, even after succumbing to Lefty Ed Lopat's steady pitching, 3-1, yesterday at Yankee Stadium. Still, the bookmakers quote the Yanks 8 to 5 favorites in the series.

Memories of Wednesday's dramatic pennant clincher in the shadow of Coogan's' Bluff still throb in the mind of every Giant. In the chummy old park where they knew their greatest glory, the Giants figure to be an inspired crew.

Monte Irvin, hitting .778 and edging up on a record with seven series hits, needs no inspiration. He is well on the way to becoming the '51 hero, win or lose.

The Giants will need a top effort from Hearn, a five-hit winner over Brooklyn in the playoff opener, to guide them past Raschi in this duel of righthanders.

Sweeping Curve

Hearn's sweeping curve and baffling sinker hogtied the Dodger bats Monday in one of his most brilliant moments. Now with four days rest the $10,000 waiver bargain of '50 is asked to put the Giants back in command. In 34 starts he went the route 12 times, winning 10 of his 17 from Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Manager Casey Stengel has Raschi, with a full week's rest, primed for a super effort. The big fellow beat Boston in his last two starts as he joined the 20-win club for the third straight year. He's 2-1 in series competition, winning the 1950 opener from Jim Konstanty of the Phils.

Each club is minus a regular outfielder going into the three-day stand at the Polo Grounds. Right Fielder Don Mueller, injured in the playoff final, won't see any action for the Giants. Hank Thompson, a converted third baseman batting .000, is taking his place.

Mickey Mantle, the 19-year-old Yank rookie, twisted his right knee yesterday and was carried from the field. X-rays will be taken today to determine the full extent of the injury, believed to be a slightly torn tendon. Stengel doesn't expect to get any more action out of the kid in the series.

It was a strange accident with Mantle, striding toward a fly ball that Joe DiMaggio eventually caught in right center, falling flat on his face when the knee gave away. Apparently he stepped hard in a small hole.

Mantle's surprise drag bunt opening the game was an important factor in yesterday's Yank win over Larry Jansen. Bunting has been a Mantle weakness all season, despite daily morning drills. The practice finally paid off.

Scores On Blooper

When Phil Rizzuto followed with another bunt single that Whitey Lockman threw wild to first, Mantle scooted to third. He scored early on Gil McDougald's blooper to short right in front of Thompson. Joe DiMaggio, still looking for his first hit, bounced into a double play and Yogi Berra struck out to let Jansen wiggle ut with only one run.

Joe Collins' 310-foot homer into the lower right field seats with two out in the second was the last runoff Jansen. Also the last hit and the last man to reach base as he retired 13 in a row until he departed for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

George Spencer blew down the next three Yanks to make it 16 in succession before Bobby Brown singled to open the eighth. With Billy Martin running for the slow-footed Doctor, Lopat helped nail down his own game with a scoring single to center.

Working easily with his tantalizing slow stuff, screw ball and an occasional Lopat-style fast ball, the chunky lefthander allowed only one hit in five innings. Al Dark's sixth-inning single was a harmless blow.

In the seventh Lopat had his own real stormy time. Singles by Irvin and Lockman started things. Willie Mays, trying to move the runners with a bunt, forced Lockman at second. When Wes Westrum walked on a 3-2 pitch to load the bases, Lopat was in a jam.

Billy Rigney, batting for Hank Thompson, lofted a long high fly to Hank Bauer that gave Irvin plenty of time to score. With a chance to break the game open, pinch hitter Ray Noble popped a foul to Berra.

Eyes Mize

Although Joe Collins is playing good ball and hitting .333, Stengel may shift to big Johnny Mize in his old Polo Grounds haunts. Mize hammered many a homer into those right field seats when he played with the Giants.

Chances are the clubs won't decide the issue in the three games at the Polo Grounds today, Sunday and Monday. If nobody wins three straight, they return to the Stadium Tuesday and Wednesday, too, if seven are needed.

Irvin's booming bat makes up for a lot of shortcomings in the Giant attack. Eddie Stanky is hitless in seven at bats, Hank Thompson is 5 for 0 and Willie Mays 9 for 0. In fact Willie had only one hit in 10 trips during the three playoff games.

Joe DiMaggio and Hank Bauer are both hitless Yankees and Berra is batting only .143.

HARDING TIED, 27-27; ST. MARY BOWS, 33-14

4,000 See Prexies In Stirring Battle

By A. L. McCLAIN
Marion Star Sports Editor

Harding's spirited Prexies saw their seven-point lead erased in the final five minutes of play last night as Fostoria came from behind to tie, 27-27. Some 4,000 fans, largest home crowd of the season saw the thriller.

Coach Pete Howison's Presidents roared to the opponent 12-yard line with two minutes left in the game, but a 15-yard holding penalty stalled the threat.

Jim Russell and Tom McClain each tallied two TD's apiece for the home crew and Chris Brady added three important extra points from placement.

Harding will need to polish its pass defense before Lima South moves in for a game Friday night. Most of the Fostoria scoring was either set up or scored through the air.

Early Lead

The visitors jumped into a 7-0 lead before the game was a minute old when Carl Peggs threw a pass to Dick Tate who caught it on the Harding 45, shook a tackler off, and went all the way.

Harding came storming back by driving 88 yards for a score.

With Russell, McClain, Brady, and Bibler carrying, they went to their own 40 where Brady then ripped to the Fostoria 20 on a 40-yard run. On the next play Russell skirted his own left end for a TD. Brady adde his first of three placements.

The home team went out ahead, 14-7, early in the second period after a Fostoria kick was blocked, on the Redmen 24. Two offside penalties gave the Prexies the ball on the two and McClain bulled through center for the score.

Fostoria gained 40 yards on an exchange of kicks and took over on the Harding 24. Tate then went 21 yards on an end-around play for a TD. Johnson's try for the extra point was no good and Harding led, 14-13 at halftime.

The visitors regained the lead in the third period when Johnson passed 15 yards into the waiting arms of Tucker who was all alone in the end zone. The extra point was added on a pass.

Regain Lead

Harding regained the lead once again just before the quarter ended when Russell dashed through his own left tackle, shook off three would-be tacklers and went 30 yards for the score. Brady again made the kick good and the Prexies led, 21-20.

The home team upped their lead to 27-20 in the fourth quarter when Tom McClain went around his own left end for a 21-yard run. Tats Taylor threw a key block on the 18 and McClain went over unmolested. The try for extra point was wide.

Midway in the final quarter Peggs caught the Prexy line napping and went through center for 15 yards and a TD. Johnson kicked the vital extra point to give the Redmen a tie.

The Prexies tried gallantly to push a score across in the final minutes, driving from their own 36 to the Fostoria 12, but a penalty and a pass interception killed their hopes.

Carey Scores First Victory

Special to The Star

CAREY, O., Oct. 6—The Carey Blue Devils won their first game of the season last night by scoring an impressive 27-0 victory over Ada.

The Blue Devils' touchdowns came on two runs by John Billock, one by Robert Cole and on a pass from Paul Williams to Bud Ritter.

Dwight Nye added two extra points after touchdowns and Stan Clott one.

Favor Rams To Win Over Ailing Browns

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5—(AP)—For the first time in their six-year history, the Cleveland Browns probably will go into a game Sunday on the short end of the betting odds.

Bettors now favor the Los Angeles rams to trim them by three points—mainly because of the injuries Clevelanders have suffered in earlier games.

As Coach Paul Brown puts it:

"We have a 33-man squad and exactly one-third of it is in no condition to play. I've never had a team get broken up the way this one has so early in the year."

"Football" he added, "is a rough game even when you feel good. We have too many guys who aren't feeling good. We'll need more than desire to do the job we have to do," he added.

By "desire," the coach was referring to the tremendous will-to-win his club has always exhibited, an urge which repeatedly has made it possible for the Clevelanders to come from behind and win.

Grigg Out

Among the most seriously hurt are Tackle Chubby Grigg, Linebacker Tony Adamle and Center Hal Herring. They may miss the game.

Quarterack Otto Graham's left hand is still swollen from an injury picked up in last Sunday's game which the San Francisco 49ers won, 24-10.

"Graham just isn't himself, but he'll have to do it again Sunday even if his left hand is a little sore," Brown continued.

Movies of the 49er game show that Graham was overshooting his receivers frequently.

That's part of the reason the Browns made only one long touchdown drive in the opener. Their other scoring opportunities were set up by the defensive line—on interceptions and recovered fumbles which gave Lou Groza chances to try for field goals. He tried four and made one good.

Bobcats Run Over Tiffin Columbian

BOWLING GREEN, O., Oct. 6—Scoring two touchdowns in both the first and third quarters, the Bowling Green Bobcats last night bowled over Tiffin Columbian, 26-0.

Fullback Emmanuel George scored one touchdown on a 12-yard off-tackle romp and netted 123 yards from scrimmage.

Halfback Joe Presti furnished 2,000 fans the game's longest play by scampering 76 yards to a TD in the second quarter. He netted 121 yards by rushing.

Irish Find Tiffin Eleven Too Much

By JOHN SHORT

St. Mary's gridders were beaten but unbowed last night at Tiffin as a power-packed Tiffin Calvert machine rolled to a 33-14 win.

Playing heads-up ball from the opening whistle, the Irish were nevertheless unable to cope with the powerful thrusts of Chuck Burkhart, Joe Perna and Co.

Despite the paralyzing power of the Tiffin aggregation, the locals managed to stave off a massacre as most fans expected after the first period. Calvert was able to score only once in the first period, once in the second and one in the third.

Playing without Dave Smith, the Irish missed an experienced linebacker. His absence was sorely felt when the Calvert backs began blasting their way through the locals' line.

Ground Plays

With Jim Altweis calling signals, the Calvert crew displayed a wide variety of power thrusts and virtually dropped their aerial attacks. Only four passes were thrown by Altweis.

Midway in the third stanza, Calvert scored their third TD after a march which started at their own 41. Jim Kramer plunged over from the one yard stripe.

Trailing 20-0 at that point, the Irish lined up for the kickoff. Joe Huss drilled a booming kick to the Irish 15. Little Dave Carr gathered it in and set sail. He cut to the left and hit the sidelines with Calvert tacklers circling him. Carr broke into the clear at the Marion 40.

With Calvert's safety man set for the tackle, Larry Ryan came from nowhere to throw what was termed the sharpest and hardest block seen in the Tiffin stadium this season.

Carr galloped the rest of the way without being touched. The Irish came back in the final frame to score against the strong defenders. This time the TD came through the air. After Don Terzo had returned a kickoff to the St. Mary 42, Jim Kilbury dropped back and lofted a pass which hit Dick Gunder at the Calvert 40. Gunder grabbed the aerial without breaking stride and went into the end zone.

* * *

After Carr had rambled 85 yards for a TD in the third quarter, he was injured on the next play. Dave received first aid and continued to play.

Tiffin, Calvert's band entertained at the half while preceding the game, fans were entertained by a parochial grade school touch league composed of Tiffin youngsters.

Findlay Extends Fremont Ross, 25-21

Special to The Star

FREMONT, O., Oct. 6—A confident Fremont Ross High football team was brought down to earth by an inspired Findlay Trojan eleven that went down to defeat only in the last two minutes and 10 seconds of play, 25-21.

Only John (Big Thunder) Lewis was between Findlay and the most amazing upset in many years. Lewis, a six-foot, three-inch powerhouse, gained 261 yards net in 22 running plays and scored three touchdowns on jaunts of 90, 38 and 21 yards.

The Trojans capitalized on numerous fumbles to stave off several goalward drives by the Giants. Ross fumbled eight times, four times within the 10-yard line. Allen Smith, who played a bang-up game for the Trojans, scored from the seven-yard line in the first period. Duane Miller booted the extra point.

Lewis sprinted 38 yards to narrow the gap to 7-6 midway in the first quarter and with one second left in the period, took a pitchout and rambled 90 yards to put Ross ahead, 12-7.

Galion Tied By Norwalk

Special to The Star

GALION, O., Oct. 6—Galion's Tigers were held to a 6-6 tie in a Northern Ohio League game last night at Norwalk when the opponents scored in the final quarter.

The Tigers had scored a TD in the opening period when Cope skirted end from four yards out. Sonny Mansperger had intercepted a Norwalk pass and lugged it to the 30 earlier.

Norwalk's tally came after a Galion fumble had given it the ball on the Galion 12. Jamison scored later, from the one-yard line. An attempt to rush the ball over for the extra point failed.

Galion's Schuttera missed an attempted field goal from the 17 in the third quarter.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(UP)—Stocks edged upward slightly at the opening today in quiet dealings.

Gains throughout the list were extremely small with a large number of pivotals holding at their previous close.

Today is the first Saturday session of the fall. The market has been closed on Saturdays in the past four months. Prior to the market opening, grim-faced Wall Street workers held a demonstration in the front of the exchange protesting the resumption of Saturday trading.

In the first minutes of trading a few blocks appeared on the tape. American Airlines opened on a block of 1,200 shares at 15½, up ⅛. Radio Corp. slipped ⅛ to 24⅜ on a block of 1,000 shares.

Elsewhere, steel equities held around previous close. Automotives held steady.

Canadian Pacific dominated dealings in the carriers. It opened on a block of 1,500 shares at 34¾, up ¼. Aircraft manufacturing issues firmed. Utilities were dull and virtually unchanged.

Trading slowed up a few minutes after the opening bell with the list holding its small initial gains.

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

ANN BLYTH AND DAVID FARRAR, British star, head the cast of the technicolor spectacle, "The Golden Horde," which opens Thursday for a week's run at the New Ohio Theater.

"Saturday's Hero" Billed at Palace

"Saturday's Hero," the story behind college football, giving the lowdown of the body-buying system of the bigtime schools and their "kept men" of the gridiron, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater. Starred are John Derek and Donna Reed.

Derek plays a star high school athlete who wishes to climb above his family's station in life, and jumps at the chance to play football for a college. However, he quickly discovers that he is only a "Saturday's hero," cheered wildly one afternoon a week because of his spectacular football playing, but otherwise shunned by the fraternity boys.

He also discovers that he is being sponsored as an All-American player by a wealthy and overbearing alumnus, who is furthering his own political ambitions by building up his alma mater as a great football college. Finally, Derek is seriously injured in a bruising game. Out of football forever, he must choose between remaining at college and returning to his home environment.

Showing Wednesday and Thursday will be a double feature, "Teresa," the dramatic story of a GI and his beautiful war bride, starring Pier Anegli and John Ericson, and "This Is Korea."

John Ericson plays Philip, a raw combat infantry recruit who undergoes his baptism of fire in the Italian campaign. Pier Angeli is seen as Teresa, the young Italian war bride who follows him to New York. The film proceeds to tell the story of the conflicts in their adjustment to life in the face of poverty, uncertainty and the young husband's fanatically overpossessive mother.

JOHN DEREK, in the center, is the star of the film, "Saturday's Hero," story of a bigtime college football player, which will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater. Co-starred is Donna Reed.

Randolph Scott Stars In South Drive-In Film

"Fighting Men of the Plains," a Cinecolor production starring Randolph Scott and featuring Bill Williams, Victor Jory and Jane Nigh, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the South Drive-In Theater.

In the film, Scott plays a notorious outlaw who guns for the man who killed his brother. He shoots the wrong man, and after exciting adventures, is arrested, but gets away. Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Strip" and "Mountain Rhythm." The former stars Mickey Rooney and Sally Forrest with William Demarest, James Craig, Kay Brown and Louis Armstrong and his orchestra, and heading the cast in the latter are the Weaver Brothers and Elviry.

In "The Strip," Rooney is seen as Stan Maxton who, on his discharge from the army, plans to resume his career as a musician but instead is persuaded to pick up "easy money" by working for a Los Angeles bookmaker racketeer. It is when he falls in love with a night club cigaret girl determined to crash the Hollywood studios that Stan finds himself in a tight spot.

Thursday through Saturday, the attractions will be "Corky of Gasoline Alley" starring Scotty Beckett as Corky and Jimmy Lydon as Skeezix, and "Hills of Utah" with Gene Autry.

In the former picture, Corky uncorks a riot of laughs when his brand new in-laws meet the Gasoline Alley gang. Gene Autry plays a doctor on horseback in "Hills of Utah." He returns to the town where his father was killed and attempts to set up his practice right in the middle of the West's wildest feud.

Showing next Sunday and Monday will be "Suicide Attack," showing the history of the Pacific war as filmed by Japanese Army and Navy cameraman, and "Korea Patrol."

"People Will Talk," the new comedy which deals with the tribulations a doctors faces for trying to treat his patients' emotions as well as their physical ailments, now is playing through Wednesday at the New Ohio Theater. Co-stars of the film are Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain.

Cary Grant is seen as Dr. Praetorius, a physician who believed—and was attacked for such a belief—that medicine should concern itself with more than the physical side of the human body. It is a study of human relations between doctor and patient, a man and a girl and their environment, probing into many facets of American life as it is known today.

Opening next Thursday will be a technicolor spectacle, "The Golden Horde," starring Ann Blyth and the British star, David Farrar.

The story is laid in the 13th century when a mighty barbarian host led by the brutal Genghis Khan, swept Westward out of Asia to destroy Samarkand, fabulous gateway city to Persia.

The Mongolian horde, though, meets its match in an army of knights led by Sir Guy Devon who has been sent from England to warn Genghis Khan to stay out of Europe. In exciting and realistic battle scenes, Sir Guy saves the city of Samarkand and its beautiful ruler, Princess Shalimar.

The Most Opinionated Man Around

The transformation of Barry Gray from a small prickly caterpiller of a disk jockey into a full grown butterfly of the arts has been a gradual process, astonishing and enlightening to all biologists like myself. For the benefit of you folks from out of town or those of you who get to bed at some reasonable hour, it ought to be explained that Mr. Gray started out as a platter chatterer over WOR in New York from 2 to 5:45 a. m., gradually worked into the field of social criticism of all sorts and is the new moderator of "Author Meets The Critics," which was once a fairly literate program.

John Crosby

Just how this came to pass is quite a story, hopelessly confusing to the late-at-night barflies who were Mr. Gray's first audience. Back in 1946 when he was on WOR, Mr. Gray soon pushed the records into the background and launched into a series of tirades for and against causes and more particularly against people. It earned him a great deal of notoriety and not a little hatred. It also gave him an audience. Among his special targets were columnists, including Leonard Lyons and Lee Mortimer, and they undid him, but only temporarily. After one of his potshots at Mortimer, WOR relieved Mr. Gray of his duties.

GRAY DIDN'T remain dormant long. Pretty soon he was — and still is—on WMCA from midnight to 3 a.m. with a program of what could conceivably be considered discussion. Gray and a motley collection of celebrated guests tackle any subject that happens to be around—anything from anti-Semitism (he's against it) to politics. Gray, it is suspected, doesn't always know a great deal about the subject he's discussing but no one has ever accused him of holding back an opinion on that account. Gray is a man of strong opinion and of many opinions. If opinions are what you're looking for, Gray's your man. Opinions for all occasions, all colors.

At any rate, the WMCA operation proved that people will listen to discussion and controversy in the wee hous. Gray has a large, rapt, not always respectful and frequently enfuriated audience of people who loathe the thought of going to bed. Sometimes, when especially riled, they even talk back. There's nothing quite so stimulating as a barfly at 2 a.m. telling Gray to go soak his head —not quite in those words. Anyhow the passage of years has mellowed Mr. Gray. His passages at arms with people and with ideas, which in the early years verged on the irresponsible, have become subdued, and reasonably thoughtful if not exactly profound.

AND NOW — "Author Meets The Critics," a milestone both for Mr. Gray and for the program. "Author Meets The Critics" started out as a fairly serious attempt to assess books, has been broadened to the point where it now examines plays, movies and even comic strips, it has been reduced from an influential network show to a local operation of no particular consequence and its former moderator, John K. M. McCaffery, has just departed, after complaining that some of the recent books under discussion in no way resembled literature. That's what you get when you try to popularize a program of this type. You lose the support of the literate population, and I strongly suspect you don't win the admiration of a single illiterate.

perform services to mankind which in other civilizations remain a government promise but here are achievements on a grand scale.

The Community Chest is the joining together of men of differing faiths, of numerous varieties of national and racial origin into the unity of charity. It is proof that the American individual, while retaining his peculiarities, can, in freedom, unite with others for good purposes.

We do not need to justify our speaking of this or our asking for charity by the sugar coating of comedy or trivial jazz. It should in this country speak for itself in the dignity which charity showers on the giver and the acceptor alike.

Progressive Grange Marks Booster Night

Progiessive Grange observed Booster Night at its meeting Tuesday night in the Grange hall. Lowell Mack, overseer, presided for the meeting in the absence of Oscar Ruth, master, and two applications for membership were read.

Presenting the program were members of Bethlehem Grange. Under the direction of Miss Marie Bender, they presented their Little Theater contest play, "Love Hits Wilbur." Members of the cast included Frank Howald, Miss Evelyn Mehaffey, Miss Betty Fogle, Mrs. Fannie Criswell, Mrs. Carol Williams and Robert Denzer. The program also included a saxophone solo by Miss Janet Ullmer, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cecil Davis.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morgan, Mr. and Mrs Floyd Higgins, Miss Alice Price and Miss Martha Price

At the next meeting, Oct 16, the program will be in charge of the members of the losing side in a recent attendance contest. A miscellaneous shower also will be given for Mr. and Mrs. Daryl McClenathan, who were married recently.

BUD ABBOTT and Lou Costello, popular comedy team, become involved in a hillbilly mountain feud in the film, "Comin' Round the Mountain," which opens tonight at the Marion Drive-In Theater and will play through Monday.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Mystery Disease That Kills

There is a mysterious disease called myasthenia gravis which produces great weakness of the muscles. Its progress is slow but continuous, usually ending in death within a period of about 10 years, though in some cases patients may survive for as long as 30.

Beginning with a slight loss of strength, which may be apparent only at the end of the day, in the end it often robs the patient of all power to move. Especially marked is the weakness which affects the muscles of the eyes, face, tongue, throat, and neck.

As a result, patients experience difficulty in performing such routine movements as those involved in chewing, swallowing, and speaking. Drooping of the eyelids, double vision, and cross-eye are very typical At times, it becomes impossible for the patient to hold his head up.

This disorder rarely occurs in those under 10 years of age or those over 70 and is found most often in the 10 to 20 and the 40 to 50 age groups.

Myasthenia gravis is usually very unpredictable and there may be remissions which last from months to years. On the other hand, the patients may become rapidly worse and, if untreated, have respiratory paralysis.

Test Injection

An exact diagnosis of the condition may be made by giving a test inpection of a preparation called neostigmine methyl sulfate. If a person is suffering from myasthenia gravis, this preparation will cause the weakness to disappear rapidly for a short period.

Various drugs have been used in the treatment of this condition. At present, neostigmine is being used and may be administered by mouth. However, in some cases, the weakness is so great that injections into the muscles or tissues must be made to supplement the amount given by mouth.

It is also advisable for a person with this condition to learn to give himself the injections, and to keep a small amount of the drug with him at all times, because weakness of the respiratory muscles may come on suddenly.

Recently, certain reports have shown some favorable results with the use of ACTH and cortisone in the treatment of this disorder. It has been found that in certain young adults suffering from a severe form of this disease, removal of the thymus gland may be slightly helpful.

Questions And Answers

O. L.: I am 18 years old and have my period every two weeks. Otherwise I am healthy. What causes it?

Answer: It is possible that your menstruation difficulty may be due to an endocrine gland imbalance. It would be a good plan for you to consult your physician concerning this matter.

Annual Police Event Scheduled Oct. 31

$2,000 in Prizes To Be Awarded In Halloween Parade and Party

Prizes valued at $2,000 will be distributed winners of the costume and float contests in the annual Halloween parade and party sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police.

This year's parade, scheduled Oct. 31, should be the biggest ever with invitations being sent to pupils in every Marion County school, police report.

The parade will move from downtown Marion to the Coliseum where the costumes will be judged and refreshments will be served. The parade route will be announced by the F.O.P. next week.

Band Trophy Planned

All the high school bands will be asked to participate and for the first time a trophy will be given the one judged best. It is to be a traveling trophy and will be awarded each year. If a band wins three years in succession, it will retain the trophy permanently.

The bands will be judged by two experts on bands who will be brought from outside Marion County, a representative of the F.O.P. said.

Harding High School band will be asked to participate in the parade but will not be considered in judging because the school is so much larger than the other schools.

Bands will compete against each other in marching and musical skill. They are to be judged while marching past a reviewing stand.

Float Rules

For the first time this year mechanically drawn floats will be permitted in the parade. They are not to be more than 10 feet wide or eight feet high. This rule was made so the floats can get into the Coliseum. Judging will take place enroute. There is to be no advertising material of any kind on the floats. Any group, club or individual in any Marion city or county school is eligible to participate in the float contest.

Floats were permitted in previous Halloween parades but they had to be pulled by the children who made them.

The class of handicapped children at George Washington School will have a special part in the parade this year. They are to be costumed and will ride in the parade on a hay wagon. Their costumes will be judged at the Coliseum with the rest and they will be sent home in taxis by the F.O.P.

Children from the Marion County Children's Home will have a section reserved for them at the Coliseum.

In order to facilitate judging there will be two judges for each school class this year.

Virgil Campbell is general chairman of the affair. The Marion auxiliary police and National Guard units will be called out to handle the expected crowds.

Anyone wishing to donate money to be used to purchase prizes or merchandise to be used for prizes may do so by calling the police department, Chairman Campbell reported.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"Of course I knew you were sharing my jitters," Lillian said with a wry grin, "but we have another bit of knowledge in common. There isn't a blessed thing we can do to hurry the solution, so we can either invite our souls to tea and crackers, or get so busy that we don't have time to brood."

"I choose the latter course," I said, "but just now there isn't anything for me to do. All the raveled ends appear to be tied up."

"You're an optimist, knowing your father," she told me with another crooked grin, and when, a quarter of an hour later, he ushered Bess Conway back into the livingroom, I remembered her words, for he immediately asked me to come back into the adjoining room with him. When he had closed the door, seated me with his usual ceremonious courtesy and taken a chair opposite me, he began to talk quickly and incisively.

"I want to impress upon you once more, Margaret," he said, "that you must plan every detail of your coming festivity in New Haven before your guests leave."

"I already have planned a session with them tonight," I said. "There will not be time in the morning, for the four boys and Mildred are taking an early train."

"I fear that will be hard for you, staying up so late," he said. "I wish that I did not have to ask you to do this, but it is most necessary. Also, I would prefer not to be present when you discuss the matter. You would not mind, but the young people would be a bit constricted in expressing their opinions, I am afraid."

I wanted to hand him the well-worn cliche about his words "being an understatement, if I ever heard one," but I repressed the impulse, and voiced by agreement with his views in more conservative fashion.

"I share your fear," I told him, "but please do not distress yourself about me, I am not in the least fatigued, and I shall have plenty of time to make up my missing sleep with naps tomorrow."

"You will have time, certainly," he said, "but," with a rueful smile, "I greatly doubt that you will use any of it in sleep. However, I haven't time to discuss that now. I must tell you some things which I wish you to relay to the young people."

He paused for an instant, and I know that, according to his custom, he was marshalling his facts in order before he uttered them.

"In the first place," he began, "I must impress upon you that no expense is to be spared. I understand that this 'Yale heel' is a most flamboyant spender — his entertainments are positively regal—and, frankly, I wish to have your dinner party outshine his! This not only will attract his attention, but will wound his ego and make him anxious to outshine you when he asks you all to accept his dinner invitation, with Bess Conway as the guest of honor.

"I am writing you a check now for a large sum, but I do not wish you to stay within it if you need to spend more. The first purchases, so that you will have time for alterations, will be an evening gown and coat for yourself, with all the accessories, and I shall expect you to see that Mildred and Bess also have new evening outfits."

OUCH! A hen held in the arms of Stanley Boyd, ten, views with some consternation the enormous egg containing three yolks she laid at Pasadena Calif A farm bureau man said it was the first triple-header he'd heard of in ten years "Wait'll she gets warmed up," Stanley said 'She's only been laying about a month"

Alaska Would Keep Timber Resources

SITKA, ALASKA—(UP)—Billions of board feet of southeast Alaska's valuable spruce and hemlock timber may possibly be hauled away to feed hungry saws and pulpwood grinders in Canada and Puget Sound

They will not be if Alaskans have their way about it

Individuals, chambers of commerce and other organizations are protesting a proposed change in U S forest service regulations that would permit the export of unmanufactured Alaskan timber

Most Alaskans feel that if the export ban is lifted, it will mean the end of their hopes for pulp mills and other timber processing plants in the territory.

West Coast timber processors are running out of raw material for their mills and they have cast a hungry eye toward the vast virgin timber tracts of Alaska Foresters estimate there are 85,000,000,000 board of feet of merchantable timber in the 16,000,000-acre Tongass National Forest which covers much of southeast Alaska
